ing.

By Associated Press.
London, April 29.—The fighting at the pit of the Gallipoli peninsula, across which the British have strung their forces, and the efforts to dislodge the Germans from Steenstraete the only point on the west bank of the Yser which the invaders have been able to hold since the recent rich in Flanders, today hold the greatest possibilities for far reaching results.

French and Belgian artillery are battling away at the German bridge head at Steenstraete, but there is no claim of substantial gain by either side.

At the same time the British show no disposition to abandon attempts to force the Germans to yield the ground gained by them up to the present time. There is no confirmation of the rumor current that they have recaptured St. Julien.

Turkish and British reports of the land operations in the Dardanelles region again are in direct conflict.

From the Turkish version, it would appear that the Anglo-French land invasion has resulted in disaster for the allies. It is said the forces which landed near Kaba Tepeh were forced back along the whole front, with heavy losses, four brigades being driven into the sea, and others surrendering. One transport is said to have been sunk.

British official reports give no hint of a defeat. The latest statement from London says the land forces have succeeded in establishing a line across the Gallipoli peninsula, on the European side of the straits, and are advancing steadily.

An official dispatch from Athens states that the allies were victorious in a battle on the west side of the peninsula, inflicting serious losses on the Turks, and capturing one battalion.

Allied forces, landed at the Dardanelles, number 80,000 men, according to a Berlin report.

A Berlin news agency announces that the Austro-Italian negotiations are proceeding toward a satisfactory adjustment. Austria is reported to have stopped all ordinary traffic on railroads along the border, for the purpose of moving large numbers of troops.

Rome, April 29.—From persons in close touch with the war situation as it affects Italy, there was obtained today information which indicates that the government has arrived at an understanding with Great Britain and France, concerning terms on which Italy will enter the war if she eventually decides to do so.

The agreement is described as follows: First, Italy will refrain from hostilities, and will time her blow with a general effort by the allies; second, an understanding concerning the territory to be awarded to Italy in the event of victory; and third, a provision that after the war an alliance shall be formed between Italy and Great Britain, France and Russia.

London, April 29.—Today's official statements from Paris and Berlin do not indicate that significant changes took place in yesterday's fighting.

The French report says Belgian and French troops made progress in Flanders, while the German announcement asserts attacks on the German positions on the west bank of the Yser canal failed.

It is also stated that the Germans advanced more than 100 yards southeast of Verdun.

In the Russian campaign, capture by the Germans of a Polish village is claimed, as well as the occupation of a Russian position on the Warsaw front.

Petrograd attached importance to the Russian capture of a village northeast of Uzsok Pass. Possession of this town it is said, will enable the Russians to interrupt the operations of the railroad, on which the Austrians have relied for moving troops.

SEE PLOT IN BURNING OF BRIDGES

By Associated Press.

Vancouver, B. C., April 29.—Fire, held by some police officials to be a part of a plot to burn the city, started simultaneously today in the Cambie and Granville street bridges, connecting the business and residence portions of Vancouver. The loss was $300,000.

Thousands of persons watched the flames burn the Cambie street bridge. The chief damage was here. The fire at the other bridge, a mile away, was extinguished with small loss.

TEDDY LEAVES STAND

Syracuse, N. Y., April 29.—In a letter produced by counsel for Theodore Roosevelt during the re-direct examination of the former president today, Governor Chas. S. Whitman, then district attorney of New York, told Charles H. Duell, of New York, that "the time was ripe" for all progressive Republicans and members of the Progressive party to "rid the state of the party control, which is responsible for corruption."

The letter was written in 1904, and the district attorney wrote that "the men and the policy responsible" for the corruption were not confined to any one party.

Mr. Barnes' name was not mentioned in the letter, but the colonel, in reply to questions, said he understood the reference was to him.

Colonel Roosevelt was excused from the stand shortly after this letter was introduced.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 29.—When Colonel Roosevelt entered the court room today the spectators applauded him and attendants had home difficulty in restoring order. The colonel was smiling as he took his seat in the witness chair and awaited the first question.

While on the stand Colonel Roosevelt was asked questions about the Tennessee Coal and Iron and the United States Steel corporations.

He said: "When the merger took place, I understood that the steel corporation did not consider it a dangerous competitor. The action occurred during the height of the panic of 1907. The prime interest of every citizen was that some measure should be taken to stop the panic and restore confidence. In New York the situation was trembling on a hair, as to whether every business would have to be shut up. One night I received notice that next day Mr. Frick and Mr. Gary, of the steel corporation, would come to see me. I had received thousands of appeals to do something."

GETTING TOGETHER ON DECENTRALIZER BILL

Means Said to Meet With Approval of Hamilton County
Solons Who Have Been Peev-
ed—Plan Is for 32 Licensing Districts.

By Associated Press.

Columbus, April 29.—Republican leaders today said they had found a means of decentralizing the liquor licensing system, which would meet the approval of Hamilton County legislators, whose insurgent movement in the House yesterday was the main reason for the killing of the Andrews bill.

The new measure probably will be introduced in the Senate tomorrow or Monday, by Senator McDermott of Trumbull, who said today the new bill will create probably 32 licensing districts, consisting of two or three counties each, with Hamilton and Cuyahoga counties constituting distinct districts in themselves.

Each of these districts will have two licensing commissioners, without other duties, who will be elected by a board of three county officials from each county in the district.

Persistent reports were circulated in legislative circles, denying that the liberal Republicans had agreed to support any decentralizing measure that had been proposed.

It was said in unusually well informed quarters that the license program was as much unsettled as ever.

Serious intimations were made that the continued disagreement, combined with Governor Willis' announcement last night that the legislature must not adjourn without passing a decentralizing measure, might result in an active session, prolonged far past the end of next week.

SCREEN LAW IS BUFFER IN STRIKE MEET

By Associated Press.

Cleveland, April 29.—With one big stumbling block out of the way, and another hinging upon possible action by the legislature, the third day's session of the joint scale committee of Ohio coal operators and miners opened here today, with prospects of peace still rosy.

The disputed point which has been obliterated is that of a plan for arbitration of future disagreements between the two factions. The agreement provides that further disputes which cannot be settled in any other way shall be referred to an arbitration board.

The second big moot point, which is dependent upon action of the legislature, is the fate of the Gallagher amendment to the Green screen coal law, now pending before the general assembly at Columbus.

The operators say there can be no settlement unless the Gallagher amendment is passed. The miners say the passing of the amendment renders a settlement impossible.

JOHN BULL AND BOOZE

By Associated Press.

London, April 29.—Chancellor of the Exchequer David Lloyd George made known in the House of Commons this afternoon his plans to deal with the question of the too great consumption of alcoholic liquors in England.

He proposes a very heavy surtax on both spirits and beers containing more than 7 per cent of proof spirit, and the duty on spirits is to be doubled.

In areas producing materials of war or in which transport work is performed, and in some camp areas, the government is to have complete control of the sale of drink.

LABOR LEADER MAKES DEFENSE

Trinidad, Colorado, April 29.—John R. Lawson, labor leader, on trial on a charge of murdering John Nimmo, will make his defense on the claim that the battle at Ludlow, in October, 1913, in which Nimmo was killed, was started by deputy sheriffs, and that Lawson himself did everything in his power to preserve peace.

This was disclosed today by his counsel, in his opening statement.

LICENSE BILL IS LOST IN THE HOUSE

Columbus, April 29.—The Andrews license bill was defeated in the house by a vote of 57 to 59. Sixty-two votes were needed to pass the measure. It was reconsidered by a vote of 59 to 58 and went to the table, whence it may be taken off by a majority vote. The bill was beaten by the Democrats and the Hamilton county Republican delegation. Fourteen Republicans—ten Cincinnatians, the two Stark county members, Agler and Oberlin—Baker of Zanesville and Niedling of Lorain—voted against the bill. Wintemute of Mercer was the only Democrat recorded for the measure.

After the failure of the house to pass the bill Governor Willis said: "Before the legislature adjourns, a bill will be enacted into law carrying into effect the Republican platform pledge to decentralize the licensing power and to retain enforcement of law by the state." The governor added he was for the Andrews bill.

It is stated that the Democrats have had an understanding since the beginning of the session to line up against the repeal of the Greenlund state license board law. High Democratic authority backs the report that the Democratic state organization refused the pleadings of liberals to give out instructions to minority members, knowing it was unnecessary, but advantage will be taken of the fact that the bill is still alive to furnish enough Democratic votes to pass it if the Republican senators don't agree to kill the Fleming students' voting bill and the Hulsitt measure, repealing the law for a separate ballot for presidential electors.

A conference was held at the governor's office in an effort to bring about an agreement between the administration and the Cincinnati delegation. The main point discussed was the question of law enforcement. Peter W. Durr insisted the state license inspector ought not to have power to revoke a license, but appeared willing to have provided an appeal to a state board from the refusal of the county licenser to revoke. Governor Willis insisted the state law-enforcing officer must have power to enforce law and for that purpose should have power to revoke.

Lovett Bill in Senate.

When the Lovett bill, prohibiting the deduction of a certain percentage from bills owed as a forced contribution to campaign funds, came up for committee reference in the senate, another temperance fight came near being precipitated. Senator McDermott moved that it be referred to the temperance committee and Senator Collins of Hamilton asked that the committee on manufacturers and commerce be substituted. To sidetrack this move of the wets, Senator McDermott withdrew his motion to send it to the temperance committee and had it sent to the elections committee. The latter is considered to be about as dry as the temperance committee.

By a vote of 23 to 0, the senate passed the Winans bill, which is designed to cure conditions in the state bank department that were brought out by the legislative probe. A number of Democrats voted for the bill.

The Behne bill, restricting the issue of bonds for municipal utilities, was reported to the house calendar. The report was signed by a bare majority of the utilities committee.

Representative Young of Cleveland in the house launched an attack against the substitute Thatcher 24-cent railroad fare bill, by motion to table the committee report of the measure. The motion was lost by a vote of 33 to 74, which is not necessarily significant of the strength of the bill, but expressed opposition to killing it in irregular fashion. Young later introduced a bill reducing the passenger fare to 13 cents. Railroad officials, in a statement, characterized this attack as a "flank movement by single tax advocates." They said a duplicate of the Thatcher bill would be introduced in the senate to hasten action, and claimed that the senate would pass it.

Discussion of the Jackson municipal bond and revenue bill was abruptly stopped in the house and the bill was referred to Whittemore of Summit when discovery was made that the house, while in condition of semi-sun-

ber, had adopted an amendment which practically repealed the Smith 1 per cent law and the Longworth debt limit act.

High cost of supervision of rural schools is reduced, but many of the rigid provisions of the code are made optional by the terms of the substitute Plumb bill, reported to the house calendar, the result being practical permission for rural schools to do as they did before the enactment of the code.

UNCLE SAM MAY SEND ANOTHER WARNING NOTE

Washington, April 29.—So aggravated has become the situation in regard to the interference with American cargoes consigned to neutral ports in Europe that the advisability of sending another note to the British government on the subject is being considered at the state department.

The problem of securing for legitimate American commerce the rights which not even the belligerents have denied in principle is declared to be the most important matter now before this government in connection with the war in Europe. It is said that the practices to which American cargoes have been subjected by British authorities are such as to try the patience of those endeavoring to ameliorate the situation.

The present burdens on American commerce are regarded as particularly irksome and aggravating because a large part of the difficulties in specific cases are attributable to the British administrative methods rather than to British policies. It is said in the majority of the cases which have given trouble to American interests there has been every effort to comply with the orders and rules of the British government. The effect of the British orders in council has been, it is stated, to put an end to practically all attempts to ship goods into Germany.

This is declared to be the case, particularly with reference to cotton shipments to neutral countries in Europe. According to Senator Hoke Smith, who has been active in these cases, a dozen cargoes of American cotton, consigned to and destined for neutral countries, are now being held by the British without proper warrant. Cotton is the one commodity supposed to be most free in this war and the British government has given repeated assurances to this effect, yet when it comes to getting cotton cargoes to their destinations, no end of difficulties is met by the American shippers, who have suffered considerable losses. While all these cases will eventually be made the basis of claims for damages to be presented to the British government, this fact is regarded as small consolation for the distress inflicted on American trade.

In an effort to cope with this situation, both the British embassy here and the state department have for weeks given their earnest attention to the details of specific cases arising. Much progress has been made as a result of these rather informal proceedings, but the situation has not been by any means completely cleared up.

GEN. FRENCH MAKES REPORT

London, April 29.—General French, commander of the British forces on the continent, announces the conclusion of another German attempt to break through the allied lines around Ypres and along the Yser canal, which brought about one of the most sanguinary battles of the war. He reports that the German advance has been checked. This, however, only brings to an end the first phase of the battle, for the allies have yet to win back ground which they lost in the great German sweep. For this purpose they are now delivering counter attacks against the German lines.

Mr. Hamlin's Assurances

In an address before the Southern Commercial Congress at Muskogee on Tuesday, Charles S. Hamlin, governor of the federal reserve board, said "the country is smiling with prosperity as a result of the federal reserve bank act."

As the system grows older the smile will grow into a laugh according to the same distinguished authority.

Naturally Mr. Hamlin took occasion in his remarks to point out that while formerly this country staggered along under the worst financial system possible to frame, that it now was blessed with the very best which the ingenuity of man could devise.

Most people are inclined to agree with Mr. Hamlin on both of his observations; especially does he find a large number of supporters for his last assertion. Expert financiers are now a unit in praising the new currency law and declaring it a vast improvement over the old system; nearly all of the expert financiers agree too that the present federal reserve currency law was the one thing that has prevented a financial panic in this country on account of the era of unprecedented industrial depression from which we are just emerging.

In support of his statement that the nation is smiling with prosperity, Mr. Hamlin is fortunate in having an actual revival of business very much in evidence.

It is that statement Mr. Hamlin made which interests the people most.

Naturally the people would prefer to hear that times are getting better than to hear how much worse they might have been.

It is human nature to rejoice more over that which we are receiving and are about to receive than over that which we have failed to lose.

The Future of Belgium

As demonstrating just how far, the warring nations of Europe are at this time, from arriving at terms of peace the position which Germany announces as her policy in Belgium is in point.

The leaders in the Reichstag announce that at the conclusion of the war Germany will not consent to any terms of peace which include the surrender of territory won by the sword, save only on the payment of heavy indemnity by the inhabitants of the conquered lands.

That can only mean Belgium, because Belgium is the only land which Germany has taken possession of by force of her armies.

While the allied powers have made no announcement as to position on terms of peace, in that regard it may be accepted as a certainty that the principal insistence, in the event the allied armies are successful, will be the restoration of Belgium to the Belgians and the payment of a heavy indemnity to the survivors of the war resident of that country to, in a manner compensate for the enormous property loss sustained.

Belgium, though not a party to the quarrel which led up to this bloody conflict, has suffered, proportionately, in loss of property and lives, far greater than any nation involved.

According to all the rules of common justice the allies can never afford to accept peace proposals which do not include the doing of substantial justice to the Belgian people.

The discussion of this subject at this time is only important—only of interest—as evidencing that the warring nations are not yet seriously considering terms of permanent peace.

Of course, the public statements made by German statesmen on that subject may be accepted as one for public consumption rather than a positive announcement of ultimate intention subject to no modification.

The world regards the restoration of Belgium to the Belgians as the one great immediate object of the allied nations. There may be, and doubtless are, other desires which encourage Germany's opponents but they are more selfish.

Reparation to the Belgians is the highest ideal for which the allies can struggle to attain.

Education Has Given Women a Power That Must Be Expressed at the Polls
By Judge WILLIAM H. WADHAMS, Supreme Court of New York

WHEN girls were first admitted to the schoolhouse they were keen for education. They went forth and challenged the world, and now there are more educated women than there are educated men. Women came into the schoolhouse thinking and doing. It is impossible to deny them the ballot, which is merely an expression of opinion. WE HAVE GIVEN THEM AN EDUCATION BY THE STATE, THERE ARE MORE WOMEN GRADUATES THAN MEN, AND IT FOLLOWS THAT THE POWER THEY HAVE ACQUIRED MUST BE EXPRESSED, AND IT CANNOT LONG BE DELAYED.

We have admitted women to business, there are veritable rivers of women going to their work side by side with the men, and we have permitted them to go into the learned professions to be doctors and lawyers. They are teaching men in law and the application of law, and shall they be denied the right to say what the law shall be? They earn money in business and turn it over to the state in taxation and cannot say anything about the use of that money.

HAVE WE SO SOON FORGOTTEN THE BOSTON TEA PARTY? THEY MUST OBEY THE LAW AND PAY THE PENALTIES OF THE LAW. THOSE WHO HAVE THE PENALTIES IMPOSED SHOULD HAVE THE PRIVILEGES OF CITIZENSHIP.

It ain't a thing of beauty and its print not always clean,

It takes the wrinkles off his face an' brushes off the frown
That little country paper from his Old Home Town.

It tells of all the parties and the balls at Pumpkin Row, Munchausen.

"The Travels of Baron Munchausen," as we have them, are a compound from a great variety of sources. The first installment, which professes to be based on the real baron's own tales, is scarcely a quarter of the whole, and even this has been traced in great part to various German, Italian and Portuguese origins. Afterward the author cribbed avowedly from Lucian and added a second volume intended as a satire on Bruce's "Travels." Most of the early editions were entitled "Gulliver Revived; or, the Vice of Lying Properly Exposed."—London Tatler.

NEW COMPANY BUYS LUMBER YARDS OF H. G. COFFMAN & CO.

OLD COMPANY RETAINS MILL AND NEW CONCERN, KNOWN AS THE WASHINGTON LUMBER COMPANY, TAKES OVER RETAIL LUMBER BUSINESS—MR. J. E. SHEPPARD TO MANAGE LUMBER COMPANY AND MR. H. G. COFFMAN WILL CONTINUE MANAGEMENT OF THE MILL.

A deal of unusual magnitude and importance was closed in this city this week, whereby the lumber yards of The H. G. Coffman Lumber Company became the property of The Washington Lumber Company, and hereafter the business will be conducted separately with the H. G. Coffman Lumber Company retaining the entire mill and the new company taking over the lumber yards and retail lumber business.

The new company is incorporated with a capitalization of $50,000 and the incorporators are A. W. Johnson, of Monroe, La.; J. E. Sheppard, of Wetstone, Kansas; H. G. Coffman, M. S. Daugherty and E. L. Bush, of this city. Mr. Johnson is president and treasurer of the new company; C. C. Shepard, of Oakdale, La., is vice president, and J. E. Sheppard, who will move soon to this city, is general manager and secretary, and will devote his entire attention to the lumber business.

The Washington Lumber Company has not only taken over the retail lumber business and the lumber of the H. G. Coffman yards, but has purchased the ground occupied by the yards. The H. G. Coffman Lumber Company retaining the grounds upon which the mill and the present office is located.

The new company will begin at once to erect a new office immediately north of the offices occupied by the H. G. Coffman Lumber Company. The H. G. Coffman Lumber Company will devote attention to mill work of all kinds, while the new company will conduct a strictly retail lumber business, handling all kinds of lumber usually carried by yards in this part of the country.

Mr. Sheppard, who will devote his entire attention to the lumber business, is a man of pleasing personality and wide experience in the business, having spent the greater portion of his life in mill work and the retail lumber business. He will retain all of the present employees of the yards, and as soon as he can find a suitable house, will move his family here.

The inventory of the stock on hand has been completed and all arrangements closed up.

Mr. H. G. Coffman will continue as the general manager of the mill business.

intimidated with the threat of being turned over to the police if any resistance is attempted. She is later advised that the police have learned of her presence and assistance is offered her to get to West Virginia, as a means of evading arrest.

The frightened girl as a rule, it is said, is then ready to resort to anything that will gain her safety, and consents to being taken to West Virginia. Arriving in West Virginia she subsequently becomes an inmate of a mining camp dive.

Mr. Vannorsdall stated that the Association was making strenuous efforts to break up these rings, the central points of which are usually towns like Washington.

JUNIORS TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT TOMORROW NIGHT

The Junior entertainment, to be put on at the High school auditorium, Friday night, promises to be one of the most attractive of the many delightful affairs given under the High school regime this season.

Its program is extremely versatile, opening with a cantata, "Three Springs," by the Girls' Glee Club—a cantata of tuneful melody and fanciful story that is fascinating.

The story of the cantata centers round three springs that rise high on the mountain side, under a willow tree, one is blue, one is white and one is gold. The dip of the willow bids each a fond farewell.

First, in the Little Limpid Pool, they listen to the Butterfly's advice to the ambitious Lily—"be content," then down the Brook they flow, "merrily, cheerily," until they come to the Three Little Falls, where it is "rough and dark" but "cool, oh, cool."

They go down the sluggish, slow-moving river, hearing the song of the rowers, then "leaping and falling" they shoot over the "Great Waterfall," and at last from the tip of a wave out on the ocean vast, they are drawn up by the sun to the soft clouds above, to be wafted back to their lovely home, high on the mountain-side.

A farce comedy replete with laughable situations, "Local and Long Distance," will be put on by members of the Junior class.

The cast includes George Davis, home from Yale with a broken leg—Carl Beck; Miss Brown, May Jones (neighbors of the Davis family)—Ruth Sexton, Nell Stuckey; Mrs. Davis (George's mother)—Ruth Brownell; Mrs. White, Miss "Slade" Kitty Parsons (more neighbors)—Helen Persinger, Mary Ramsey, Emily Palmer.

The Junior Boy's quartet, the Junior Girls' chorus and both Glee Club choruses will add popular musical numbers.

Seats are going well at the Tuttle book store and a big house is anticipated.

CONFEDERATE SOLDIER HONORS UNION MAN

The "Warren Sentinel" contains the following notice of the death of Capt. E. H. Ripley, a warm personal friend of Mr. F. W. Green, of this county:

Capt. E. H. Ripley, who was in charge of the Freeman's Bureau in this district, with headquarters in Front Royal, Va., for several years, just after the war, died at his home in Washington, Sunday, aged 80 years.

Since 1869 he had been connected with the pension bureau. He lost an arm at Antietam, while commanding a company of the 8th Conn. Inf.

Mr. Green, an ex-confederate soldier, pays high tribute to Capt. Ripley as a Union soldier, when he says "he was as fine a man as I ever knew."

WASHINGTON C. H. IN A WHITE SLAVE CIRCUIT

INVESTIGATING AGENT SAID TO HAVE MADE SOME STARTLING STATEMENTS—THREE PERSONS ALLEGED TO BE WORKING HERE, WITH DEN OVER LOCAL BUSINESS HOUSE—MODE OF OPERATION EXPLAINED.

Field Agent Vannorsdall who has been doing some investigating in this section recently in the interests of the American Civic Reform Association, and who conferred with Washington ministers on the subject, is said to have made some startling announcements bearing on Washington's connection with the white slave traffic.

These statements are repeated by a local man, who discussed the subject with Mr. Vannorsdall, and would indicate that Washington is the center of a white slave ring, which begins in a big Ohio city.

It is said that the chief operators in the larger cities conduct an employment bureau, to which they lure young girls in search of employment. With the statement that there is little work in their home city, and predicting that there is not likely to be any soon, these operators advise that the girls come to Washington C. H., where they assure them they can find congenial work at good wages.

Girls who are thus victimized, according to the statement, come to Washington, where they are met by a woman, one of a party of three operators here, the other two of whom are men. This woman is credited with taking the victims to a "den" over a local business house.

After the girl has been forced to remain with them for a while she is

TIME TO BALK.

The Chinaman Thought the Missionary Was Going Too Far.

Dr. Frank Garrett, who has been a missionary to China for the last seventeen years, says that the first thing you have to do is to get the Chinese viewpoint. Like many of their customs, it seems to us upside down. In the United States if you call a man a liar you are likely to get into serious trouble. In China the man would be rather complimented than insulted.

A missionary had established a little church somewhere in the interior and put a native preacher in charge while he visited some other mission points. When he returned he missed one young man from the congregation. The native preacher said they had put him out of the church.

"Why, what was the matter? What did he do?" asked the missionary.

"He stole a bamboo rod," returned the preacher.

"Why," answered the missionary, "a bamboo rod is worth only about 10 cents. Don't you think you were a little severe?"

"No, no," and he shook his head indignantly. "We can't have a thief in the church. The Bible says a thief can't go to heaven, and we couldn't have any one in the church who couldn't go to heaven. Besides, it would give us a bad name in the community."

"Well," returned the missionary, "the Bible says a liar can't go to heaven. Are you going to turn the liars out too?"

"Oh," cried the preacher, "that's different! Entirely different! We all lie."—Youth's Companion.

OLD TIME MANNERS.

Rules of Good Behavior in the Early Eighteenth Century.

In a work entitled "Youth's Behavior," published in 1706, there is this injunction to young gentlemen, "Put off thy Cap or Hat to persons of Desert as are Churchmen, Justices and the like, turning the Cap or Hat to thyself; making a Reverence, bowing thyself more or less according to the custom of the better bred."

In the midst of remarks which indicate the utmost refinement we come suddenly upon such directions as this:

"Tis not manners as soon as you are set at Table to bawl out, 'I eat none of this, I eat none of that, I care for no Rabbit; I love nothing that tastes of Pepper, Nutmeg, Onions,' etc."

After stating that "some have been so refined in Foreign parts that they will neither be covered, nor sit with their backs to the picture of an eminent Person," the writer goes on to remark that "there are some who eat with that eagerness and impatience, they eat themselves out of breath and will pant like a broken winded Horse, but these are not to be endured."

He also warns his pupil thus:

"When you are talking to any one do not continually punch him in the side, as some people do; who, after every sentence keep asking the person they are conversing with, 'Did I not tell you so?' 'What say you, sir?' and in the meantime they are every moment joggling and thrusting him with their elbows, which cannot be considered as a mark of respect."

Lincoln Among Other Men.

Some years ago a series of pictures was printed showing Lincoln in many attitudes, either alone or in company with statesmen or military men in Washington or in camp. Attention was called by the writer, who had assembled the pictures, to the singular isolation and dignity of Lincoln when taken with any group of men. They, almost without exception, showed that they were conscious of observation, attitudes were studied, and the effort to look well in the picture was often evident. No matter in what company he was, the president seemed not to be conscious either of the artist, of himself or of the men who surrounded him. He stood or sat alone, as if he were an impersonal figure representing native strength and unique sublimity of character.—Christian Register.

Would Be Great.

"They say that Mars is not now habitable, but will be soon." "Gosh, I'd like to help settle it. Think of being among the first families of an entire planet."—Kansas City Journal.

STATE SOCIETY IS WORKING FOR THE PROPOSED HOSPITAL

WORK OF "LINING UP" PICKAWAY, PIKE AND SCIOTO COUNTIES FOR DISTRICT TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL NOW UNDER WAY AN ANOTHER MEETING IS TO BE HELD SOON - STATISTICS SHOW NEED OF SUCH HOSPITALS.

Commissioner Weaver of Fayette county, chairman of the joint committee composed of commissioners from Fayette, Pickaway, Pike and Ross counties and formed to discuss and put through the proposed district tuberculosis hospital will probably call another meeting about the middle of May or early part of June. By that time it is expected that Dr. R. S. Patterson in charge of the tuberculosis department of the State Board of Health, will have completed his mission to bring Pickaway, Pike and Scioto counties into the plan. Statistics have been presented to most of the commissioners in the counties interested, the main points of which are as follows: In Ohio, there are 20 deaths from tuberculosis every day throughout the year. According to official statistics in 1912 there were 6,760 deaths in Ohio from all forms of tuberculosis;

in 1911, 7,093 deaths; in 1910, 7,179 deaths and in 1909, 6,844 deaths. The number of deaths in Ohio from all causes total about 65,000 each year.

One out of every ten deaths in Ohio is due to tuberculosis. One-third of all deaths between the ages of 15 and 50 in this state are due to tuberculosis. The average length of illness in tuberculosis is three years. Three years of sickness for the average wage earner spells privation, pitiful despondency and poverty. The amount of suffering in the families, or among the relatives and friends of the 7,000 individuals who die from the disease in Ohio is immeasurable.

There is another side to the cost of tuberculosis. That is the economic loss to the community. The majority of deaths from tuberculosis occur at the most valuable period of a person's life, the working, the productive period, the age when the life of the individual is of the greatest economic value and his death of the greatest economic loss to the community.

It has been estimated that the actual economic loss per annum to the people of the State of Ohio due to tuberculosis is about 25 millions of dollars.—Chillicothe News.

HORSE SALE PROGRESSING SUCCESSFULLY

The spring horse sale, which began at the sales pavilion Wednesday, following the horse show, has been meeting with splendid success, and indications are that it will so continue the balance of the week.

The Offering has been very choice; the best, in fact, in the opinion of horsemen, ever offered here. Seventy head of first class stock went under the hammer Thursday, returning good prices. The highest sale made was that of Taylor Sturgeon, aristocratic equine from the Los Crone stables, which brought an even $1,000. The buyer was John Hallman, of Lancaster, Pa.

Horsemen from all over the country are attending the sale, and are unanimous in the expression that this is the best sale, proportionately, that they have attended this year, the prevailing market conditions having affected the larger markets.

In Social Circles

The congregation and Sunday school of East End gave a delightful farewell reception to Dr. and Mrs. P. J. Henness, Wednesday evening at the Chapel.

East End has been warmly attached to Dr. Henness and his wife and the only thing which marred the evening's pleasure was the regret attendant upon his departure. As a token of appreciation a beautiful crepe de chine dress pattern was presented to Mrs. Henness by Mrs. Sherman Reeder's class, and a handsome clock to Dr. and Mrs. Henness by the Sunday school.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

Mrs. O. T. Grafton pleasantly entertained the Thursday afternoon Kensington club this afternoon.

The home of Mrs. Frank M. Fullerton was bright with spring sunshine and spring blossoms Wednesday afternoon, when the Guild Kensington of the Presbyterian church was enjoyably entertained by Mesdames Fullerton, Lizzie Buck, Phil Davis, Frank Rothrock, Charles Campbell, Tom Grove, Miss Mazie Kessler.

A dainty repast was served.

WITNESS CLAIMS HOWARD DRUNK

With no great variance in the testimony introduced, witness after witness continues to be examined in the Howard murder trial, which is dragging along in Common Pleas court.

Among the witnesses examined Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday up to the noon hour, were Patrolman J. L. Baughn, Francis Madden, Della Thompson, Lucy Smith, Beverly Patterson and Chic Gantz (both of whom had been recalled), Mrs. Gertie Patterson, Ben Crosswhite, Bert Shimp and Geo. Bryant.

Probably the most interesting testimony was that given by Bert Shimp, proprietor of a billiard room on South Main street, and for whom Howard worked, who testified that Howard was badly intoxicated when he came to his place of business Sunday, and was in a still worse condition when he showed up for work Monday, or the day on which the crime was committed.

Other witnesses who testified were Tom Lindsey, Alonzo Sharpe, Iva Acton, Frank Reichert, A. C. Nelson, John Patterson and Roy Hays.

Sharp was in the jail when Howard was imprisoned. He said the accused acted as if intoxicated and showed symptoms of having a fit soon after locked up. Iva Acton, matron of the jail, believed the man had been drinking.

The Fastest Colors.

It is said that the fastest colors on the market are what are known among dyers as hydrosulphite-colors that are dyed with hydrosulphite in a caustic bath. These colors are as nearly fast as any can be made and have been adopted by our government to be used in army uniforms.

The dyeing of these colors on cotton yarn is simple, especially when the Scotch tub system is employed. The proper way to dye these colors is to use the vacuum type of dye machine, as the dyestuff experts hold that all air should be eliminated from the cotton before the dyestuff is applied, and this type of machine is best suited for that purpose, because in this system the cotton is stationary and the dye liquor is forced through the cotton by means of pumps.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Traditions of Sandwich.

Sandwich is the hub of the universe—of golf. In times medieval it was one of England's five gates, through which passed heroes and saints, priests and kings. Here it was that King

Arthur set out to play the emperor of Rome with Excalibur, and here on his return Guinevere welcomed him. St. Paul, says tradition, landed at Sandwich, but it is history that marks it as the landing place of St. Augustine. Picts and Scots were here beaten back by the army of the eastern Julian, and Theodosius landed to repel the Saxons. Becket escaped from England via Sandwich to France. Here Richard I. landed after his Austrian imprisonment and John, king of France, came as a prisoner of the black prince.—London Chronicle.

Tart Retort.

Of Lord Jeffreys, noted for his heartless cruelty, it is recorded when he was chief justice he had a witness before him whose evasive answers aroused the judge's ire. The witness wore an exceedingly long and bushy beard. Said Jeffreys, "If your conscience is as large as your beard you'll swear anything." Unabashed, the witness retorted, "If your lordship measures consciences by beards your lordship has none at all."

T. R. TRIES TO SHATTER IVIN'S INSINUATIONS

Schenectady, N. Y., April 29.—On re-direct examination, Theodore Roosevelt at the trial of the Ibel suit instituted against him by William Barnes, testified in justification of his private letters and his secret deeds. Seeking point by point to shatter Mr. Ivin's revelations and insinuations, the colonel declared over and over again that his main purpose from first to last was to acquaint himself with the popular will and enforce it if the forces of evil were not too strong. Sometimes these were too potent, but nevertheless he had done his best. For the best interests of the people it was necessary he should at times recognize the bosses. With the utmost dexterity the colonel justified, explained, extenuated, defended and lauded his own acts as governor and president. It was brought out by Mr. Roosevelt's attorney that the Republican campaign fund of 1904 was $1,800,000, not $3,000,000, as had been reported. There were new flashes of interest all through the session, with the colonel describing how Platt always had at heart the interests of the poor; why he had made appointments to please Senator Grady; how Hughes had asked him to make the fight against Barnes in 1910; how his meetings and breakfasts with Platt might as well have been held in a public square, so open and harmless they were; how it was necessary to show Platt copies of his messages in advance, because no text such was desirable on public grounds; how he often went against Platt when the people's interests were concerned, and why he made this appointment and that.

DEATH RATE TOO LOW; STRIKE OFF

New York, April 29.—The coal-miners' union decided to postpone its general strike on account of the low death rate in the city. The union anticipates a more favorable opportunity when continuous hot weather sets in.

PLANS OF THE PROGRESSIVES

Topeka, Kan., April 29.—The Progressive party will be in the fight in 1916, with either Victor Murdock of Kansas or Hiram Johnson of California leading, and on a platform of national prohibition and national suffrage. This is the word from W. A. White, national committeeman from Kansas for the Progressive party, who said: "We probably can poll 2,000,000 votes on these issues, but our fight will be chiefly a national fight. Probably Hiram Johnson or Victor Murdock will head the national ticket. Each is the embodiment of everything the Progressive party stands for in the nation."

DEADLOCK DEVELOPS

Cleveland, April 29.—Negotiations looking to a settlement of the strike in the eastern Ohio coal fields, which has kept 15,000 men idle for more than a year, took an unfavorable turn in the second day's conference of operators and miners called by Governor Willis. Leaders of the operators asserted that unless the legislature reconsiders and passes the Gallagher bill further negotiations with the men will be useless. The Gallagher bill, which was recently defeated in the legislature, permitted mine owners to make contracts with the miners either on a screen or mine run basis. The Green law, for which the Gallagher bill would act as a substitute, makes mine run contracts compulsory. On the other hand, if the Gallagher bill is reconsidered and passed, the miners, according to William Green, national secretary of the union, will withdraw from the conference.

SKILL OF THE BEAVER.

As a Canal Digger He is an Engineer of Rare Ability.

According to a legend, the beaver is supposed to be a reincarnation of man, put back on earth to expiate past offenses by work, and in some of the early drawings it is depicted with the face of a man. And when we consider its extraordinary intelligence and skill as woodcutter, engineer (dam and canal maker), house builder and food storer the notion does not seem at all far-fetched. Describing the canals which the animals make by scooping out the earth with their hands, A. R. Dugmore in the "Romance of the Beaver" remarks:

"It might be presumed that these canals are only run through level country, but here is the greatest evidence of the engineering ability of the beaver: They build their canals uphill by means of weirs or dams, the distance between them varying according to the gradient. Yet they never work uphill unless it is made absolutely necessary by the contour of the land. The width of these canals is usually about three feet, with a depth from one to three feet, seldom deeper except when small pools are made, evidently with the idea of providing a hiding place in the event of danger. The direction of the canals must necessarily be variable. Whenever conditions are favorable they are as straight as though laid out by human engineers, but when there is any advantage to be gained by curves they make curves."

ANCIENT MEDICAL SKILL.

Peru Had Clever Physicians and Surgeons Ages Ago.

Both cocaine and quinine were first discovered and used by the prehistoric inhabitants of Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia. A cup made from the wood of the tree yielding quinine was filled with water and allowed to stand overnight. In the morning the liquid had become saturated with the medicinal properties possessed by the wood and its bitter contents were drunk. The quassia cups sold in drug stores in this country during the past century were the early method used to administer quinine.

The leaf from the tree giving cocaine is chewed today by the Indians living in the mountainous districts of Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia. It acts as a heart stimulant in those high altitudes and deadens the pangs of hunger so frequently felt by the half-starved natives.

The Chumus, who lived in Peru, according to some authorities, 2500 years before Christ and whose dominions extended into Bolivia, Ecuador and parts of Brazil and Colombia, had a pharmacopoeia of their own. Most of the articles used by them as medicines aeons ago are used by the physician of today. Their surgeons were highly skilled too. I have seen skulls dug up in their old cemeteries that showed their owners during life had been injured many times in battle by blunt instruments, presumably clubs, and their lives had been saved by trephining. I recall one skull with four silver plates, several with three, very many with two and hundreds with one. —Leslie's Weekly.

The Almanac Trust.

The sale of almanacs was once a lucrative monopoly. Queen Elizabeth granted the sole right to publish "almanacs and prognostications" to the Stationers' company, and James I. extended the privilege to the universities of Oxford and Cambridge, but for centuries only these three bodies were permitted to issue printed calendars. The monopoly ended when the claim of the king to the privileges of granting or withholding permission to issue calendars—a survival, perhaps, from days when kings asserted their right to regulate all things, including even the times and seasons—was definitely disproved and proclaimed nonexistent. Now anybody can say who's who anywhere. —London Spectator.

Masked Women.

Upper class Swahili women wear curious masks, which are made of leather and beads in a wooden frame. The mask is derived from the traditional usage of Moslem women, who must keep their faces covered in the presence of men. For several centuries Arab traders have frequented this east African coast, and to their influence are due most of the civilized customs found today among the natives of the district. The clothing worn by these prosperous dames is of silk; their shoes are partly of silver, and they wear much silver jewelry. The Moslems in Zanzibar, by the way, are less fanatically strict about religious usages than their brethren in Morocco and Turkey. —Wide World Magazine.

GREAT MASSES OF TROOPS CONTINUE DEADLY BATTLES

of Allied Forces on Gallipoli

80,000 TROOPS IN ALLIED ARMY

Austria Prepares Railroads for a Great Movement of Troops Near Italian Frontier—Italy and Allies in Pact Which Insures Italians Striking When Proper Time Is Deemed Essential—German and French Claims Somewhat Conflicting.

By Associated Press.
London, April 29.—The fighting at
the pit of the Gallipoli peninsula,
across which the British have strung
their forces, and the efforts to dislodge the Germans from Steenstraete
the only point on the west bank of the Yser which the invaders have been able to hold since the recent push in Flanders, today hold the greatest possibilities for far reaching results.

French and Belgian artillery are attacking away at the German bridge head at Steenstraete, but there is no sign of substantial gain by either side.

At the same time the British show disposition to abandon attempts to force the Germans to yield the ground gained by them up to the present time. There is no confirmation of the rumor current that they have recaptured St. Julien.

Turkish and British reports of the operations in the Dardanelles region again are in direct conflict.
From the Turkish version, it would appear that the Anglo-French invasion has resulted in disaster for the allies. It is said the Germans which landed near Kaba-tepeh were forced back along the whole front, with heavy losses, four regiments being driven into the sea,
and others surrendering. One transport is said to have been sunk.

British official reports give no
hint of a defeat. The latest statement from London says the land forces have succeeded in establishing a line across the Gallipoli peninsula, on the European side of the straits, and are advancing steadily.

An official dispatch from Athens
states that the allies were victorious
in a battle on the west side of the peninsula, inflicting serious losses on the Turks, and capturing one batallion.

Allied forces, landed at the Dardanelles, number 80,000 men, according to a Berlin report.

A Berlin news agency announces that the Austro-Italian negotiations are proceeding toward a satisfactory adjustment. Austria is reported to have stopped all ordinary traffic on railroads along the border, for the purpose of moving large numbers of troops.

Rome, April 29.—From persons in close touch with the war situation as it affects Italy, there was obtained today information which indicates that the government has arrived at an understanding with Great Britain and France, concerning terms on which Italy will enter the war if she eventually decides to do so.

The agreement is described as follows: First, Italy will refrain from hostilities, and will time her blow with a general effort by the allies;
second, an understanding concerning the territory to be awarded to Italy in the event of victory; and third, a provision that after the war an alliance shall be formed between Italy and Great Britain, France and Russia.

London, April 29.—Today's official statements from Paris and Berlin do not indicate that significant changes took place in yesterday's fighting.

The French report says Belgian and French troops made progress in Flanders, while the German announcement asserts attacks on the German positions on the west bank of the Yser canal failed.

It is also stated that the Germans advanced more than 100 yards at southeast of Verdun.

In the Russian campaign, capture by the Germans of a Polish village is claimed, as well as the occupation of a Russian position on the Warsaw front.

Petrograd attached importance to the Russian capture of a village northeast of Ussok Pass. Possession of this town it is said, will enable the Russians to interrupt the operations of the railroad, on which the Austrians have relied for moving troops.

TEDDY LEAVES STAND

Syracuse, N. Y., April 29.—In a letter produced by counsel for Theodore Roosevelt during the re-direct examination of the former president
today, Governor Chas. S. Whitman,
then district attorney of New York,
told Charles H. Duell, of New York,
that "the time was ripe" for all progressive Republicans and members of the Progressive party to "rid the state of the party control, which is responsible for corruption."

The letter was written in 1904,
and the district attorney wrote that
"the men and the policy responsible"
for the corruption were not confined to any one party.

Mr. Barnes' name was not mentioned in the letter, but the colonel, in reply to questions, said he understood
the reference was to him.

Colonel Roosevelt was excused from the stand shortly after this letter was introduced.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 29.—When
Colonel Roosevelt entered the courtroom today the spectators applauded
him and attendants had home difficulty in restoring order. The colonel was smiling as he took his seat in the witness chair and awaited the first question.

While on the stand Colonel Roosevelt was asked questions about the Tennessee Coal and Iron and the United States Steel corporations.

He said: "When the merger took place, I understood that the steel corporation did not consider it a dangerous competitor. The action occurred during the height of the panic of 1907. The prime interest of every citizen was that some measure should be taken to stop the panic and restore confidence. In New York the situation was trembling on a hair, as to whether every business would have to be shut up. One night I received notice that next day Mr. Frick and Mr. Gary, of the steel corporation, would come to see me. I had received thousands of appeals to do something."

GETTING TOGETHER ON DECENTRALIZER BILL

Means Said to Meet With Approval of Hamilton County
Solons Who Have Been Peev-
ed—Plan Is for 32 Licensing
Districts.

By Associated Press.

Columbus, April 29.—Republican leaders today said they had found a means of decentralizing the liquor
licensing system, which would meet
the approval of Hamilton County legislators, whose insurgent movement
in the House yesterday was the main reason for the killing of the Andrews
bill.

The new measure probably will be introduced in the Senate tomorrow
or Monday, by Senator McDermott of Trumbull, who said today the new bill will create probably 32 licensing districts, consisting of two or three counties each, with Hamilton and Cuyahoga counties constituting distinct districts in themselves.

Each of these districts will have two licensing commissioners, without other duties, who will be elected by a board of three county officials from each county in the district.

Persistent reports were circulated in legislative circles, denying that the liberal Republicans had agreed to support any decentralizing measure that had been proposed.

It was said in unusually well informed quarters that the license program was as much unsettled as ever.

Serious intimations were made
that the continued disagreement,
combined with Governor Willis' announcement last night that the legislature must not adjourn without passing a decentralizing measure,
might result in an active session, prolonged far past the end of next week.

SCREEN LAW IS BUFFER IN STRIKE MEET

By Associated Press.

Cleveland, April 29.—With one
big stumbling block out of the way,
and another hinging upon possible
action by the legislature, the third day's session of the joint scale committee of Ohio coal operators and miners opened here today, with prospects of peace still rosy.

The disputed point which has been obliterated is that of a plan for arbitration of future disagreements between the two factions. The agreement provides that further disputes which cannot be settled in any other way shall be referred to an arbitration board.

The second big moot point, which is dependent upon action of the legislature, is the fate of the Gallahgher amendment to the Green screen coal law, now pending before the general assembly at Columbus.

The operators say there can be no
settlement unless the Gallagher amendment is passed. The miners say the passing of the amendment
renders a settlement impossible.

MEET ONCE AGAIN IN 500-MILE CONTEST

Nothing is dearer to the hearts of Harry Grant and Caleb Bragg, scheduled to drive Sunbeam and Mercer cars in the next Indianapolis 500-mile race, respectively, than a speed duel just between themselves. No matter what other drivers may be doing, this pair locks horns from the shot of the gun, and tries to make the other quit. In strength they are about even, Bragg having annexed the 1912 Grand Prize, while Grant took down the 1909 and '10 Vanderbilt cup contests.

ALLIES MAKE BIG STRIDES IN THE EAST

London, April 29.—The allies have made progress in their land and sea attack upon the Dardanelles—the gateway to Constantinople. Already the British troops have thrown a line across the southern extremity of the Gallipoli peninsula from the Aegean coast to a point northeast of Eski Hissarlik, a strongly fortified position facing the straits, thus isolating the Turkish stronghold at Sedd El Behr, at the very lips of the Dardanelles.

This has been done, says the British admiralty, in the face of a strenuous resistance by the Turkish forces, who have combated every foot of ground won with furious obstinacy. The fighting throughout has been exceedingly bitter. Farther north, on the Aegean side of the peninsula, at Gaba Tebeh, and at a point opposite the inland village of Saribair, additional landing forces have made good their foot hold on Turkish soil and have driven the opposing forces back from the coast despite a vigorous artillery fire. Gaba Tebeh is about ten miles from the end of the Gallipoli peninsula; Saribair is about five miles farther. The troops who drove a line across the peninsula to the vicinity of Eski Hissarlik landed on a level shore some three miles from the entrance to the straits. Eski Hissarlik is some three miles inside the straits.

With the French army of invasion holding Kum Kaleh, at the southern or Asiatic side of the entrance, and the British forces sweeping across the lower fifteen miles of the Gallipoli peninsula, it will thus be seen that the task of acquiring a first foothold has been achieved with great speed. Sedd El Behr is already cut off from its base of supplies and must of necessity fall before many days; Kum Kaleh is practically in the hands of the French, and north, at the entrance to the narrows, Kild Bahr, a position on which the Turks place great reliance, is said to be driving the enemy rapidly before it.

The dispatches indicate that both the French and British forces are entirely landed, despite the precautions taken by the Turks, under the generalship of German commanders, who had woven a network of wire entanglements just off the shore under the sea swell and had dug great pits which were treed with spikes. The shore was well fortified with barbed wire.

TO CHECK THE SLAV ADVANCE

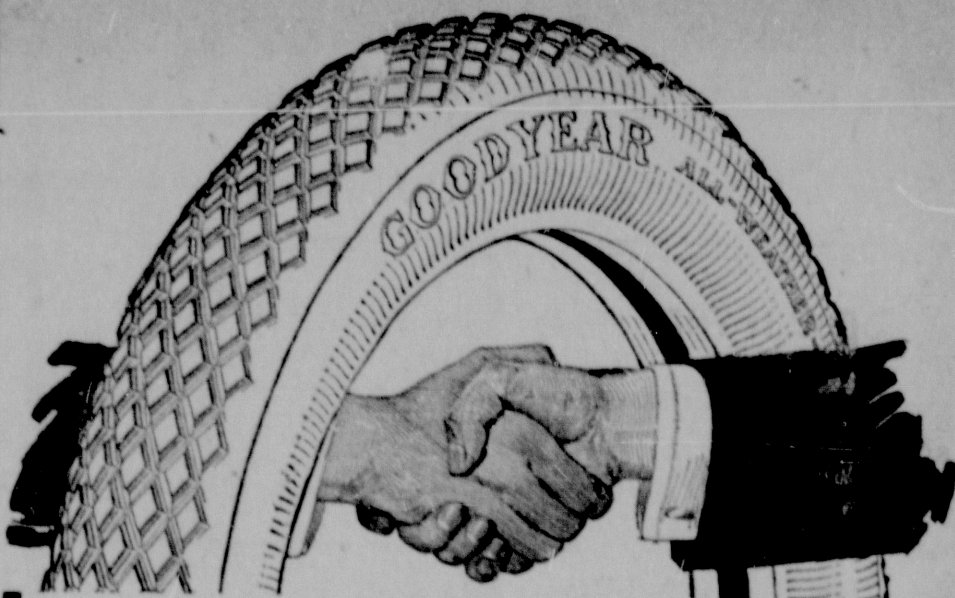

London, April 29. — Fighting of a desperate character continues in the high ground of the Carpathians along the Stry river and in the neighborhood of Uzok pass. The Austrians, heavily reinforced by their own compatriots and by Germans, are still making desperate efforts to retake heights and advantageous positions in order to hold off the Russian advance when the spring thaw is over. According to dispatches from Petrograd the Russians have made progress in spite of the attacks. They now hold the summits to the north and north-west of the Uzok pass, and when advances are made on either flank by their troops it will, it is believed, render the German occupation of the pass untenable. The fighting now is spread through mountain defiles, which make concerted maneuvers impossible.

ITALY IS IN AGREEMENT WITH ALLIES

Rome, April 29.—An agreement between Italy and the allies, practically amounting to an alliance, undoubtedly will be concluded in the near future. The agreement is regarded as the prelude to Italy's intervention in the war.

Meanwhile the government retains freedom of action while the Italo-Austrian negotiations are pending. The government, it is expected, will announce the eventual failure of these negotiations simultaneously with the announcement of Italian intervention when an opportune time arrives.

Greece's intervention in favor of the allies is considered here to be imminent and inevitable. The negotiations preceding this step are well along. The main questions, those of concessions in Asia Minor and financial help, have been practically settled, and the situation in Greece is now identical with that which existed previous to the resignation of Premier Venizelos.

The Co-operative Tire

Goodyear has always built co-operative tires. Every saving has gone to the user. The more men bought the better we built them, and the lower we sold them.

That is why Goodyear has held top place, outselling any other tire.

3 Reductions

Note that in two years we made three big price reductions. The last—on February 1st—brought the total to 45 per cent.

Yet in costly ways these tires have been bettered. In not one iota were they ever skimped.

Our Fortified Tire is still "On-Air" cured to save blow-outs. Yet that one extra costs us $450,000 yearly.

It still has our No-Rim-Cut feature. It has in each base 126 braided piano wires to make the tire secure. It embodies hundreds of rubber rivets, formed to combat loose treads.

Our All-Weather tread is still double-thick. It still has the sharp, tough, resistless grips.

Those extras—all exclusive to Goodyear—are all retained, despite our price reductions. And we still spend $100,000 yearly to discover new ways to better them.

Your Ally

In all these ways, Goodyear is your ally. You do injustice to yourself when you fail to secure this advantage. Never in tire history was such value given as you get in Goodyear tires today.

No smaller makers can ever give so much.

Any dealer will supply you. (257)

REPORTED ALLIES LOST 12,000 MEN

Berlin, April 29.—A well authenticated report has reached Berlin that the left wing of the allies' landing force on the Gallipoli peninsula, which General Liman von Sanders, the German commander of the Turkish forces, reported as holding out, has now surrendered to the Turks. Halil Bey, former president of the Turkish parliament, who is now in Berlin, received a telegram from Constantinople stating that 8,000 French and British soldiers had been driven to the sea and that 12,000 had been captured by the Turks as a result of the attempt of the allies to land forces to attack the Dardanelles fortifications.

C. H. & D. SHOPS RUN FULL TIME

Lima, Ohio, April 29.—For the first time in two years the shops of the C. H. & D. Railroad here, employing 400 men, will work a full month. On previous occasions the appropriations ran out long before the month was over and the shops were closed until the beginning of the following month.

The machine shops are using their full quota of men and are working full time to keep up with the work. It was said today by local officials that the shops would be likely to run on full time for several months to come, as much equipment needed repair. The enormous increase in business of the road the past two weeks has caused the activity, the coal traffic to the lakes being heavier than at any time in the history of the road.

MILLIONS FOR BETTERMENTS

Baltimore, Md., April 28.—The expected financing to be done by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company came today with the announcement that Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co. have purchased $40,000,000 4½ per cent secured gold notes. These notes are equally divided as follows: $20,000,000 maturing June 1, 1917, two year maturities are offered at 99½ and the three-year maturities at 99.

This offering will more than take care of the $35,000,000 one-year notes, which fall due June 1 next, and leaves $5,000,000 for further betterment or other forms of financing.

TALENTED GIRL TO GIVE RECITAL

No little local interest attaches to a recital, to be given by Miss Mary Hazel Post, reader, impersonator and monologist, of Ohio University, at Wayne Hall, Good Hope, Saturday evening, for the benefit of the Sugar Grove church.

This will be Miss Post's first appearance in public since leaving the local high school, where her ability first attained recognition. She will present a delightfully varied repertoire, the amusing and humorous in the lead, and rich entertainment is promised in her program.

Musical talent will assist a vocal quartet, Mrs. Silcott, Mrs. Cockerill, Messrs. Silcott and Hardway, with Mrs. Everhart accompanist. Miss Bernice Boggs, piano soloist and a song by Margaret Alice Porter.

SENIOR GIRLS ENTERTAIN TEACHERS

The Senior girls of the Domestic Science department, under the direction of the domestic science teacher, Miss Maude Chester, served luncheon to half of the High school teachers and evening dinner to the remainder.

It was a practical lesson in serving for the girls and a genuine treat to the guests. Both luncheon and dinner were served with exquisite daintiness, a color scheme of green and white at the former and violet and white at the latter.

Four courses of deliciously cooked viands were served and the place cards were extremely pretty little hand painted affairs.

SUNNYSIDE LOSES TO CENTRAL NINE

With "Chuck" Myers in the tosser's box Central school's fast diamond pirates put it over the Sunnyside aggregation Tuesday evening. The lopsided score was 7 to 1.

Central is now somewhat appeased for the loss of the first two games of the season to Cherry Hill.

HISTORIC AQUEDUCT DESTROYED BY FIRE

The historic old aqueduct across the Scioto river at Circleville was completely destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning, and it is believed that the fire was of incendiary origin, as numerous attempts had been made to burn the old structure.

The structure was completed in 1831, at a cost of $40,000. It was of wood construction and was in a splendid state of preservation.

POSTMASTER OF HILLSBORO DEAD

Hillsboro, April 28.—A. E. Hough, postmaster of Hillsboro, died suddenly this afternoon from a hemorrhage of the throat. He was appointed postmaster in July, 1914. A STORY THAT VARIES.

The Bride Who Got Into a Chest and Was Found Dead There.

There is a story more or less diffused of a young bride on her wedding day playing the game of hide and seek and concealing herself in one of those ancient carved chests of large size. After she had got in the lid closed, and she found herself unable to raise it again, for it fastened with a spring, and she was shut in. Search was made for her in every quarter but the right one, and great perplexity and dismay were caused by her disappearance. It was not till years after, when chance led to the opening of the chest, that the body of the young bride was discovered and the mystery of her disappearance solved.

The story is found in so many places that it may be questioned whether it is true of any one of them. Rogers tells it of a palace in Modena. The chest in which the poor bride was found is shown at Bramshill, in Hampshire, the residence of Sir John Cope. Another similar chest, with precisely the same story attached to it, was long shown at Maxwell Old Hall, between Winchester and Bishop's Waltham.

The folk tale of Catskin or Peau d'Ane represents the girl flying with her bridal dresses from a marriage that is repugnant to her, and as this tale is found all over Europe it may have metamorphosed itself into that of the bride who got into a chest and died there.—Cornhill Magazine.

BLUNDERING REPORTERS.

Mistakes That Mangled the Speakers' Words and Feelings.

"Drunkenness is folly!" earnestly exclaimed Bishop Magee in the house of lords on a celebrated occasion. How horrified was the prelate to read in the papers next morning that he had given utterance to the very bacchanalian sentiment, "Drunkenness is folly!"

Lord Salisbury was a master phrase-maker, but one of his best points was spoiled when a careless reporter turned his reference to "manacles and Man-toba" into the meaningless "manacles and men at the bar."

Sir William Harcourt was badly misquoted once. "Great is Diana of the Ephesians!" he exclaimed upon the platform, but one paper had it: "Great Diah! What a farce is this!"

Lack of knowledge of familiar quotations is a prolific source of misreporting. For instance, a speaker once made use of the well known lines from Milton's "L'Allegro":

But come, thou goddess, fair and free,
In heaven's sweet Euphrosyne.

The brilliant reporter deputed to "take him down" was in despair. He could not make head or tail of this mysterious utterance. But, following the sound as far as possible, he seized his pen and produced the following gem:

But come, thou goddess, fair and free,
In heaven's sweet and froze her knee.

The speaker was taken down in more senses than one.—London Answers.

Golf in the Old Days.

Centuries back golf was a pastime of the royal family, though then usually played in Scotland. The Stuart family was very fond of the game, and the first English club was established at Blackheath in 1608 by James I. His eldest son, Henry, frequently played and on one occasion nearly struck by accident his tutor with a club, whereupon he coolly remarked, "Had I done so I had but paid my debts." Charles I. was playing golf when he received the news of the Irish rebellion. James, duke of York, afterward James II., was another ardent player. Golf is frequently mentioned in ancient Scottish records and in the fifteenth century was prohibited because it interfered with the practice of archery. Strutt considered it the most ancient game at ball requiring a bat.—London Standard.

Puss and the Weather.

The cat is an excellent barometer. When you see a cat wetting its paw in its mouth and then rubbing it energetically over the upper part of its ear you may feel pretty certain that rain is coming. This action is puss's method of relieving the uncomfortable feeling in its ears caused by the change in the atmospheric pressure which precedes a storm. If the unpleasant feeling in the ear were due to a foreign substance then the cat would scratch the ear with its hind foot. But when puss scrubs its ear with its saliva moistened paw it is when rain is impending.

Do not think that years leave us and find us the same.—Meredith.

Care of the Ear.

Never be alarmed if a living insect enters the ears. Pouring warm water into the canal will drown it, when it will generally come to the surface and can easily be removed by the fingers. A few puffs of tobacco smoke blown into the ear will stupefy the insect. Never meddle with the ear if a foreign body, such as a bead, button or seed enters it. Leave it absolutely alone, but have a physician attend to it. More damage has been done by injudicious attempts at the extraction of a foreign body than could ever come from its presence in the ear.—Health.

Attacked in Front and Rear

A youngster of our acquaintance who has a faculty for getting into scrapes recently expressed the wish that he was a postage stamp. When asked why, he answered, "Because a postage stamp can only be licked once," whereupon we pointed out that the stamp received, besides the licking, a severe punch in the face.—Boston Transcript.

Contrary Efforts.

"The man who forged the indorsement of his friend went to the bank to cash the check."
"Well?"
"The friend went immediately after him to check the cash."—Baltimore American.

A Great Principle.

"Forgive your enemies," said the earnest man. "That's good religion."
"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum, "and sometimes it's good politics too."—Washington Star

London, April 29.—The fighting at
the pit of the Gallipoli peninsula,
across which the British have strung
their forces, and the efforts to dislodge the Germans from Steenstraate
the only point on the west bank of the Yser which the invaders have been able to hold since the recent rich in Flanders, today hold the greatest possibilities for far reaching results.

French and Belgian artillery are battling away at the German bridge head at Steenstraate, but there is no claim of substantial gain by either side.

At the same time the British show no disposition to abandon attempts to force the Germans to yield the ground gained by them up to the present time. There is no confirmation of the rumor current that they have recaptured St. Julien.

Turkish and British reports of the land operations in the Dardanelles region again are in direct conflict.
From the Turkish version, it
would appear that the Anglo-French land invasion has resulted in disaster for the allies. It is said the forces which landed near Kaba Tepeh were forced back along the whole front, with heavy losses, four brigades being driven into the sea,
and others surrendering. One transport is said to have been sunk.

British official reports give no
hint of a defeat. The latest statement from London says the land
forces have succeeded in establishing a line across the Gallipoli peninsula, on the European side of the straits, and are advancing steadily.

An official dispatch from Athens
states that the allies were victorious
in a battle on the west side of the peninsula, inflicting serious losses on

TEDDY LEAVES STAND

Syracuse, N. Y., April 29.—In a letter produced by counsel for Theodore Roosevelt during the re-direct
examination of the former president
today, Governor Chas. S. Whitman,
then district attorney of New York,
told Charles H. Duell, of New York,
that "the time was ripe," for all
progressive Republicans and members
of the Progressive party to "rid the state of the party control, which is responsible for corruption."

The letter was written in 1904,
and the district attorney wrote that
"the men and the policy responsible"
for the corruption were not confined
to any one party.

Mr. Barnes' name was not mentioned in the letter, but the colonel, in reply to questions, said he understood
the reference was to him.

Colonel Roosevelt was excused
from the stand shortly after this letter was introduced.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 29.—When
Colonel Roosevelt entered the court room today the spectators applauded
him and attendants had home difficulty in restoring order. The colonel
was smiling as he took his seat in
the witness chair and awaited the first question.

While on the stand Colonel Roosevelt was asked questions about the
Tennessee Coal and Iron and the United States Steel corporations.

He said: "When the merger took place, I understood that the steel corporation did not consider it a dangerous competitor. The action occurred during the height of the panic
of 1907. The prime interest of every citizen was that some measure should be taken to stop the panic and restore confidence. In New York the situation was trembling on a hair, as to whether every business would have to be shut up. One night I received notice that next day Mr. Frick
and Mr. Gary, of the steel corporation, would come to see me. I had received thousands of appeals to do something."

GETTING TOGETHER ON DECENTRALIZER BILL

Means Said to Meet With Approval of Hamilton County
Solons Who Have Been Peev-
ed—Plan Is for 32 Licensing
Districts.

By Associated Press.

Columbus, April 29.—Republican leaders today said they had found a means of decentralizing the liquor
licensing system, which would meet
the approval of Hamilton County legislators, whose insurgent movement
in the House yesterday was the main reason for the killing of the Andrews
bill.

The new measure probably will be introduced in the Senate tomorrow
or Monday, by Senator McDermott of Trumbull, who said today the new bill will create probably 32 licensing
districts, consisting of two or three counties each, with Hamilton and Cuyahoga counties constituting distinct districts in themselves.

Each of these districts will have two licensing commissioners, with-

out other duties, who will be elected by a board of three county officials from each county in the district.

Persistent reports were circulated
in legislative circles, denying that the liberal Republicans had agreed to support any decentralizing measure that had been proposed.

It was said in unusually well informed quarters that the license program was as much unsettled as ever.

Serious intimations were made
that the continued disagreement,
combined with Governor Willis' announcement last night that the legislature must not adjourn without passing a decentralizing measure,
might result in an active session, prolonged far past the end of next
week.

SCREEN LAW IS BUFFER IN STRIKE MEET

By Associated Press.

Cleveland, April 29.—With one
big stumbling block out of the way,
and another hinging upon possible
action by the legislature, the third
day's session of the joint scale committee of Ohio coal operators and
miners opened here today, with prospects of peace still rosy.

The disputed point which has been
obliterated is that of a plan for arbitration of future disagreements between the two factions. The agreement provides that further disputes
which cannot be settled in any other way shall be referred to an arbitration board.

The second big moot point, which
is dependent upon action of the legislature, is the fate of the Gallagher amendment to the Green screen coal law, now pending before the general assembly at Columbus.

The operators say there can be no
settlement unless the Gallagher amendment is passed. The miners
say the passing of the amendment
renders a settlement impossible.

BILLY SUNDAY EMPHASIZING A POINT.

LICENSE BILL IS LOST IN THE HOUSE

Columbus, April 29.—The Andrews license bill was defeated in the house by a vote of 57 to 59. Sixty-two votes were needed to pass the measure. It was reconsidered by a vote of 59 to 58 and went to the table, whence it may be taken off by a majority vote. The bill was beaten by the Democrats and the Hamilton county Republican delegation. Fourteen Republicans—ten Cincinnatians, the two Stark county members, Agler and Oberlin Baker of Zanesville and Nieding of Lorain—voted against the bill. Wintermute of Mercer was the only Democrat recorded for the measure.

After the failure of the house to pass the bill Governor Willis said: "Before the legislature adjourns, a bill will be enacted into law carrying into effect the Republican platform pledge to decentralize the licensing power and to retain enforcement of law by the state." The governor added he was for the Andrews bill.

It is stated that the Democrats have had an understanding since the beginning of the session to line up against the repeal of the Greenlund state license board law. High Democratic authority backs the report that the Democratic state organization refused the pleadings of liberals to give out instructions to minority members, knowing it was unnecessary, but advantage will be taken of the fact that the bill is still alive to furnish enough Democratic votes to pass it if the Republican senators don't agree to kill the Fleming students' voting bill and the Hulsitt measure, repealing the law for a separate ballot for presidential electors.

A conference was held at the governor's office in an effort to bring about an agreement between the administration and the Cincinnati delegation. The main point discussed was the question of law enforcement. Peter W. Durr insisted the state license inspector ought not to have power to revoke a license, but appeared willing to have provided an appeal to a state board from the refusal of the county licenser to revoke. Governor Willis insisted the state law-enforcing officer must have power to enforce law and for that purpose should have power to revoke.

Lovett Bill In Senate.

When the Lovett bill, prohibiting the deduction of a certain percentage from bills owed as a forced contribution to campaign funds, came up for committee reference in the senate, another temperance fight came near being precipitated. Senator McDermott moved that it be referred to the temperance committee and Senator Collins of Hamilton asked that the committee on manufacturers and commerce be substituted. To sidetrack this move of the wets, Senator McDermott withdrew his motion to send it to the temperance committee and had it sent to the elections committee. The latter is considered to be about as dry as the temperance committee.

By a vote of 23 to 0, the senate passed the Winans bill, which is designed to cure conditions in the state bank department that were brought out by the legislative probe. A number of Democrats voted for the bill.

The Behne bill, restricting the issue of bonds for municipal utilities, was reported to the house calendar. The report was signed by a bare majority of the utilities committee.

Representative Young of Cleveland in the house launched an attack against the substitute Thatcher 2½-cent railroad fare bill, by motion to table the committee report of the measure. The motion was lost by a vote of 33 to 74, which is not necessarily significant of the strength of the bill, but expressed opposition to killing it in irregular fashion. Young later introduced a bill reducing the passenger fare to 13¢ cents. Railroad officials, in a statement, characterized this attack as a "flank movement" by single tax advocates. They said a duplicate of the Thatcher bill would be introduced in the senate to hasten action, and claimed that the senate would pass it.

Discussion of the Jackson municipal bond and revenue bill was abruptly stopped in the house and the bill was referred to Whittemore of Summit when discovery was made that the house, while in condition of semi-silence, had adopted an amendment which practically repealed the Smith 1 per cent law and the Longworth debt limit act.

High cost of supervision of rural schools is reduced, but many of the rigid provisions of the code are made optional by the terms of the substitute Plumb bill, reported to the house calendar, the result being practical permission for rural schools to do as they did before the enactment of the code.

UNCLE SAM MAY SEND ANOTHER WARNING NOTE

Washington, April 29.—So aggravated has become the situation in regard to the interference with American cargoes consigned to neutral ports in Europe that the advisability of sending another note to the British government on the subject is being considered at the state department.

The problem of securing for legitimate American commerce the rights which not even the belligerents have denied in principle is declared to be the most important matter now before this government in connection with the war in Europe. It is said that the practices to which American cargoes have been subjected by British authorities are such as to try the patience of those endeavoring to ameliorate the situation.

The present burdens on American commerce are regarded as particularly irksome and aggravating because a large part of the difficulties in specific cases are attributable to the British administrative methods rather than to British policies. It is said in the majority of the cases which have given trouble to American interests there has been every effort to comply with the orders and rules of the British government. The effect of the British orders in council has been, it is stated, to put an end to practically all attempts to ship goods into Germany.

This is declared to be the case, particularly with reference to cotton shipments to neutral countries in Europe. According to Senator Hoke Smith, who has been active in these cases, a dozen cargoes of American cotton, consigned to and destined for neutral countries, are now being held by the British without proper warrant. Cotton is the one commodity supposed to be most free in this war and the British government has given repeated assurances to this effect, yet when it comes to getting cotton cargoes to their destinations, no end of difficulties is met by the American shippers, who have suffered considerable losses. While all these cases will eventually be made the basis of claims for damages to be presented to the British government, this fact is regarded as small consolation for the distress inflicted on American trade.

In an effort to cope with this situation, both the British embassy here and the state department have for weeks given their earnest attention to the details of specific cases arising. Much progress has been made as a result of these rather informal proceedings, but the situation has not been by any means completely cleared up.

GEN. FRENCH MAKES REPORT

London, April 29.—General French, commander of the British forces on the continent, announces the conclusion of another German attempt to break through the allied lines around Ypres and along the Yser canal, which brought about one of the most sanguinary battles of the war. He reports that the German advance has been checked. This, however, only brings to an end the first phase of the battle, for the allies have yet to win back ground which they lost in the great German sweep. For this purpose they are now delivering counter attacks against the German lines.

Mr. Hamlin's Assurances

In an address before the Southern Commercial Congress at Muskogee on Tuesday, Charles S. Hamlin, governor of the federal reserve board, said "the country is smiling with prosperity as a result of the federal reserve bank act."

As the system grows older the smile will grow into a laugh according to the same distinguished authority.

Naturally Mr. Hamlin took occasion in his remarks to point out that while formerly this country staggered along under the worst financial system possible to frame, that it now was blessed with the very best which the ingenuity of man could devise.

Most people are inclined to agree with Mr. Hamlin on both of his observations; especially does he find a large number of supporters for his last assertion. Expert financiers are now a unit in praising the new currency law and declaring it a vast improvement over the old system; nearly all of the expert financiers agree too that the present federal reserve currency law was the one thing that has prevented a financial panic in this country on account of the era of unprecedented industrial depression from which we are just emerging.

In support of his statement that the nation is smiling with prosperity, Mr. Hamlin is fortunate in having an actual revival of business very much in evidence.

It is that statement Mr. Hamlin made which interests the people most.

Naturally the people would prefer to hear that times are getting better than to hear how much worse they might have been.

It is human nature to rejoice more over that which we are receiving and are about to receive than over that which we have failed to lose.

The Future of Belgium

As demonstrating just how far, the warring nations of Europe are at this time, from arriving at terms of peace the position which Germany announces as her policy in Belgium is in point.

The leaders in the Reichstag announce that at the conclusion of the war Germany will not consent to any terms of peace which include the surrender of territory won by the sword, save only on the payment of heavy indemnity by the inhabitants of the conquered lands.

That can only mean Belgium, because Belgium is the only land which Germany has taken possession of by force of her armies.

While the allied powers have made no announcement as to position on terms of peace, in that regard it may be accepted as a certainty that the principal insistence, in the event the allied armies are successful, will be the restoration of Belgium to the Belgians and the payment of a heavy indemnity to the survivors of the war resident of that country to, in a manner compensate for the enormous property loss sustained.

Belgium, though not a party to the quarrel which led up to this bloody conflict, has suffered, proportionately, in loss of property and lives, far greater than any nation involved.

According to all the rules of common justice the allies can never afford to accept peace proposals which do not include the doing of substantial justice to the Belgian people.

The discussion of this subject at this time is only important—only of interest—as evidencing that the warring nations are not yet seriously considering terms of permanent peace.

Of course, the public statements made by German statesmen on that subject may be accepted as one for public consumption rather than a positive announcement of ultimate intention subject to no modification.

The world regards the restoration of Belgium to the Belgians as the one great immediate object of the allied nations. There may be, and doubtless are, other desires which encourage Germany's opponents but they are more selfish.

Reparation to the Belgians is the highest ideal for which the allies can struggle to attain.

Education Has Given Women a Power That Must Be Expressed at the Polls

By Judge WILLIAM H. WADHAMS, Supreme Court of New York

WHEN girls were first admitted to the schoolhouse they were keen for education. They went forth and challenged the world, and now there are more educated women than there are educated men. Women came into the schoolhouse thinking and doing. It is impossible to deny them the ballot, which is merely an expression of opinion. WE HAVE GIVEN THEM AN EDUCATION BY THE STATE, THERE ARE MORE WOMEN GRADUATES THAN MEN, AND IT FOLLOWS THAT THE POWER THEY HAVE ACQUIRED MUST BE EXPRESSED, AND IT CANNOT LONG BE DELAYED.

We have admitted women to business, there are veritable rivers of women going to their work side by side with the men, and we have permitted them to go into the learned professions to be doctors and lawyers. They are teaching men in law and the application of law, and shall they be denied the right to say what the law shall be? They earn money in business and turn it over to the state in taxation and cannot say anything about the use of that money.

HAVE WE SO SOON FORGOTTEN THE BOSTON TEA PARTY? THEY MUST OBEY THE LAW AND PAY THE PENALTIES OF THE LAW. THOSE WHO HAVE THE PENALTIES IMPOSED SHOULD HAVE THE PRIVILEGES OF CITIZENSHIP.

Munchausen.

"The Travels of Baron Munchausen," as we have them, are a compound from a great variety of sources. The first installment, which professes to be based on the real baron's own tales, is scarcely a quarter of the whole, and even this has been traced in great part to various German, Italian and Portuguese originals. Afterward the author cribbed avowedly from Lucian and added a second volume intended as a satire on Bruce's "Travels." Most of the early editions were entitled "Gulliver Revived; or, the Vice of Lying Properly Exposed."—London Tatler.

You imagine you are a pretty fine kind of a fellow. But the chances are that if you ever met a man precisely like yourself you wouldn't have much use for him.

If you want to have plenty of friends just make other people imagine that they know more than you do.

Another humbug like homemade bread is the coffee that mother used to make. Mother used to grind the beans and throw them into an old tin pot and boil the coffee until it was thick and strong and muddy. It tasted fine when you were a boy because you had a boy's appetite. A very peculiar institution in the New York zoo is what is known as "the flying birdcage." This magnificent aviary is the largest of its kind in the world, being 55 feet high, 72 feet wide and 150 feet long. The frame of the cage is built of iron pipes, which are covered over with thin meshed netting.

NEW COMPANY BUYS LUMBER YARDS OF H. G. COFFMAN & CO.

OLD COMPANY RETAINS MILL AND NEW CONCERN, KNOWN
AS THE WASHINGTON LUMBER COMPANY, TAKES OVER RE-TAIL LUMBER BUSINESS—MR.
J. E. SHEPPARD TO MANAGE
LUMBER COMPANY AND MR. H.
G. COFFMAN WILL CONTINUE
MANAGEMENT OF THE MILL.

A deal of unusual magnitude and importance was closed in this city this week, whereby the lumber yards of The H. G. Coffman Lumber Company became the property of The Washington Lumber Company, and hereafter the business will be conducted separately with the H. G. Coffman Lumber Company retaining the entire mill and the new company taking over the lumber yards and retail lumber business.

The new company is incorporated with a capitalization of $50,000 and the incorporators are A. W. Johnson, of Monroe, La.; J. E. Sheppard, of Weststone, Kansas; H. G. Coffman, M. S. Daugherty and E. L. Bush, of this city. Mr. Johnson is president and treasurer of the new company; C. C. Shepard, of Oakdale, La., is vice president, and J. E. Sheppard, who will move soon to this city, is general manager and secretary, and will devote his entire attention to the lumber business.

The Washington Lumber Company has not only taken over the retail lumber business and the lumber of the H. G. Coffman yards, but has purchased the ground occupied by the yards. The H. G. Coffman Lumber Company retaining the grounds upon which the mill and the present office is located.

The new company will begin at once to erect a new office immediately north of the offices occupied by the H. G. Coffman Lumber Company. The H. G. Coffman Lumber Company will devote attention to mill work of all kinds, while the new company will conduct a strictly retail lumber business, handling all kinds of lumber usually carried by yards in this part of the country.

Mr. Sheppard, who will devote his entire attention to the lumber business, is a man of pleasing personality and wide experience in the business, having spent the greater portion of his life in mill work and the retail lumber business. He will retain all of the present employees of the yards, and as soon as he can find a suitable house, will move his family here.

The inventory of the stock on hand has been completed and all arrangements closed up.

Mr. H. G. Coffman will continue as the general manager of the mill business.

intimidated with the threat of being turned over to the police if any resistance is attempted. She is later advised that the police have learned of her presence and assistance is offered her to get to West Virginia, as a means of evading arrest.

The frightened girl as a rule, it is said, is then ready to resort to anything that will gain her safety, and consents to being taken to West Virginia. Arriving in West Virginia she subsequently becomes an inmate of a mining camp dive.

Mr. Vannorsdall stated that the Association was making strenuous efforts to break up these rings, the central points of which are usually towns like Washington.

JUNIORS TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT TOMORROW NIGHT

The Junior entertainment, to be put on at the High school auditorium, Friday night, promises to be one of the most attractive of the many delightful affairs given under the High school regime this season.

Its program is extremely versatile, opening with a cantata, "Three Springs," by the Girls' Glee Club—a cantata of tuneful melody and fanciful story that is fascinating.

The story of the cantata centers round three springs that rise high on the mountain side, under a willow tree, one is blue, one is white and one is gold. The dip of the willow bids each a fond farewell.

First, in the Little Limpid Pool, they listen to the Butterfly's advice to the ambitious Lily—"be content," then down the Brook they flow, "merrily, cheerily," until they come to the Three Little Falls, where it is "rough and dark" but "cool, oh, cool."

They go down the sluggish, slow-moving river, hearing the song of the rowers, then "leaping and falling" they shoot over the "Great Waterfall," and at last from the tip of a wave out on the ocean vast, they are drawn up by the sun to the soft clouds above, to be wafted back to their lovely home, high on the mountain-side.

A farce comedy replete with laughable situations, "Local and Long Distance," will be put on by members of the Junior class.

The cast includes George Davis, home from Yale with a broken leg—Carl Beck; Miss Brown, May Jones (neighbors of the Davis family)—Ruth Sexton, Nell Stuckey; Mrs. Davis (George's mother)—Ruth Brownell; Mrs. White, Miss "Slade" Kitty Parsons (more neighbors)—Helen Persinger, Mary Ramsey, Emily Palmer.

The Junior Boy's quartet, the Junior Girls' chorus and both Glee Club choruses will add popular musical numbers.

Seats are going well at the Tuttle book store and a big house is anticipated.

The "Warren Sentinel" contains the following notice of the death of Capt. E. H. Ripley, a warm personal friend of Mr. F. W. Green, of this county:

Capt. E. H. Ripley, who was in charge of the Freeman's Bureau in this district, with headquarters in Front Royal, Va., for several years, just after the war, died at his home in Washington, Sunday, aged 80 years.

Since 1869 he had been connected with the pension bureau. He lost an arm at Antietam, while commanding a company of the 8th Conn. Inf.

Mr. Green, an ex-confederate soldier, pays high tribute to Capt. Ripley as a Union soldier, when he says "he was as fine a man as I ever knew."

WASHINGTON C. H. IN A WHITE SLAVE CIRCUIT

INVESTIGATING AGENT SAID TO HAVE MADE SOME STARTLING STATEMENTS—THREE PER-SONS ALLEGED TO BE WORK-ING HERE, WITH DEN OVER
LOCAL BUSINESS HOUSE—
MODE OF OPERATION EX-PLAINED.

Field Agent Vannorsdall who has been doing some investigating in this section recently in the interests of the American Civic Reform Association, and who conferred with Washington ministers on the subject, is said to have made some startling announcements bearing on Washington's connection with the white slave traffic.

These statements are repeated by a local man, who discussed the subject with Mr. Vannorsdall, and would indicate that Washington is the center of a white slave ring, which begins in a big Ohio city.

It is said that the chief operators in the larger cities conduct an employment bureau, to which they lure young girls in search of employment. With the statement that there is little work in their home city, and predicting that there is not likely to be any soon, these operators advise that the girls come to Washington C. H., where they assure them they can find congenial work at good wages.

Girls who are thus victimized, according to the statement, come to Washington, where they are met by a woman, one of a party of three operators here, the other two of whom are men. This woman is credited with taking the victims to a "den" over a local business house.

After the girl has been forced to remain with them for a while she is

TIME TO BALK.

The Chinaman Thought the Missionary Was Going Too Far.

Dr. Frank Garrett, who has been a missionary to China for the last seventeen years, says that the first thing you have to do is to get the Chinese viewpoint. Like many of their customs, it seems to us upside down. In the United States if you call a man a liar you are likely to get into serious trouble. In China the man would be rather complimented than insulted.

A missionary had established a little church somewhere in the interior and put a native preacher in charge while he visited some other mission points. When he returned he missed one young man from the congregation. The native preacher said they had put him out of the church.

"Why, what was the matter? What did he do?" asked the missionary.

"He stole a bamboo rod," returned the preacher.

"Why," answered the missionary, "a bamboo rod is worth only about 10 cents. Don't you think you were a little severe?"

"No, no," and he shook his head indignantly. "We can't have a thief in the church. The Bible says a thief can't go to heaven, and we couldn't have any one in the church who couldn't go to heaven. Besides, it would give us a bad name in the community."

"Well," returned the missionary, "the Bible says a liar can't go to heaven. Are you going to turn the liars out too?"

"Oh," cried the preacher, "that's different! Entirely different! We all lie."—Youth's Companion.

OLD TIME MANNERS.

Rules of Good Behavior in the Early Eighteenth Century.

In a work entitled "Youth's Behavior," published in 1706, there is this injunction to young gentlemen, "Put off thy Cap or Hat to persons of Descent as are Churchmen, Justices and the like, turning the Cap or Hat to thyself; making a Reverence, bowing thyself more or less according to the custom of the better bred." In the midst of remarks which indicate the utmost refinement we come suddenly upon such directions as this:

"Tis not manners as soon as you are set at Table to bawl out, 'I eat none of this, I eat none of that, I care for no Rabbit; I love nothing that tastes of Pepper, Nutmeg, Onions,' etc."

After stating that "some have been so refined in Foreign parts that they will neither be covered, nor sit with their backs to the picture of an eminent Person," the writer goes on to remark that "there are some who eat with that eagerness and impatience, they eat themselves out of breath and will pant like a broken winded Horse, but these are not to be endured."

He also warns his pupil thus:

"When you are talking to any one do not continually punch him in the side, as some people do; who, after every sentence keep asking the person they are conversing with, 'Did I not tell you so?' 'What say you, sir?' and in the meantime they are every moment jogging and thrusting him with their elbows, which cannot be considered as a mark of respect."

Lincoln Among Other Men.

Some years ago a series of pictures was printed showing Lincoln in many attitudes, either alone or in company with statesmen or military men in Washington or in camp. Attention was called by the writer, who had assembled the pictures, to the singular isolation and dignity of Lincoln when taken with any group of men. They, almost without exception, showed that they were conscious of observation, attitudes were studied, and the effort to look well in the picture was often evident. No matter in what company he was, the president seemed not to be conscious either of the artist, of himself or of the men who surrounded him. He stood or sat alone, as if he were an impersonal figure representing native strength and unique sublimity of character.—Christian Register.

Would Be Great.

"They say that Mars is not now habitable, but will be soon."

"Gosh, I'd like to help settle it. Think of being among the first families of an entire planet."—Kansas City Journal.

STATE SOCIETY IS WORKING FOR THE PROPOSED HOSPITAL

WORK OF "LINING UP" PICKAWAY, PIKE AND SCIOTO COUNTIES FOR DISTRICT TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL NOW UNDER WAY AN ANOTHER MEETING IS TO BE HELD SOON—STATISTICS SHOW NEED OF SUCH HOSPITALS.

Commissioner Weaver of Fayette county, chairman of the joint committee composed of commissioners from Fayette, Pickaway, Pike and Ross counties and formed to discuss and put through the proposed district tuberculosis hospital will probably call another meeting about the middle of May or early part of June. By that time it is expected that Dr. R. S. Patterson in charge of the tuberculosis department of the State Board of Health, will have completed his mission to bring Pickaway, Pike and Scioto counties into the plan. Statistics have been presented to most of the commissioners in the counties interested, the main points of which are as follows: In Ohio, there are 20 deaths from tuberculosis every day throughout the year. According to official statistics in 1912 there were 6,760 deaths in Ohio from all forms of tuberculosis;

in 1911, 7,093 deaths; in 1910, 7,179 deaths and in 1909, 6,844 deaths. The number of deaths in Ohio from all causes total about 65,000 each year.

One out of every ten deaths in Ohio is due to tuberculosis. One-third of all deaths between the ages of 15 and 50 in this state are due to tuberculosis. The average length of illness in tuberculosis is three years. Three years of sickness for the average wage earner spells privation, pitiful despondency and poverty. The amount of suffering in the families, or among the relatives and friends of the 7,000 individuals who die from the disease in Ohio is immeasurable.

There is another side to the cost of tuberculosis. That is the economic loss to the community. The majority of deaths from tuberculosis occur at the most valuable period of a person's life, the working, the productive period, the age when the life of the individual is of the greatest economic value and his death of the greatest economic loss to the community.

It has been estimated that the actual economic loss per annum to the people of the State of Ohio due to tuberculosis is about 25 millions of dollars.—Chillicothe News.

The congregation and Sunday school of East End gave a delightful farewell reception to Dr. and Mrs. P. J. Henness, Wednesday evening at the Chapel.

East End has been warmly attached to Dr. Henness and his wife and the only thing which marred the evening's pleasure was the regret attendant upon his departure. As a token of appreciation a beautiful crepe de chine dress pattern was presented to Mrs. Henness by Mrs. Sherman Reeder's class, and a handsome clock to Dr. and Mrs. Henness by the Sunday school.

WITNESS CLAIMS HOWARD DRUNK

With no great variance in the testimony introduced, witness after witness continues to be examined in the Howard murder trial, which is dragging along in Common Pleas court.

Among the witnesses examined Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday up to the noon hour, were Patrolman J. L. Baughn, Francis Madden, Della Thompson, Lucy Smith, Beverly Patterson and Chic Gantz (both of whom had been recalled), Mrs. Bertie Patterson, Ben Crosswhite, Bert Shimp and Geo. Bryant.

Probably the most interesting testimony was that given by Bert Shimp, proprietor of a billiard room on South Main street, and for whom Howard worked, who testified that Howard was badly intoxicated when he came to his place of business Sunday, and was in a still worse condition when he showed up for work Monday, or the day on which the crime was committed.

Other witnesses who testified were Tom Lindsey, Alonzo Sharpe, Iva Acton, Frank Reichert, A. C. Nelson, John Patterson and Roy Hays.

Sharp was in the jail when Howard was imprisoned. He said the accused acted as if intoxicated and showed symptoms of having a fit soon after locked up. Iva Acton, matron of the jail, believed the man had been drinking.

HORSE SALE PROGRESSING SUCCESSFULLY

The spring horse sale, which began at the sales pavilion Wednesday, following the horse show, has been meeting with splendid success, and indications are that it will so continue the balance of the week.

The offering has been very choice; the best, in fact, in the opinion of horsemen, ever offered here. Seventy head of first class stock went under the hammer Thursday, returning good prices. The highest sale made was that of Taylor Sturgeon, aristocratic equine from the Los Crane stables, which brought an even $1,000. The buyer was John Hallman, of Lancaster, Pa.

Horsemen from all over the country are attending the sale, and are unanimous in the expression that this is the best sale, proportionately, that they have attended this year, the prevailing market conditions having affected the larger markets.

The Fastest Colors.

It is said that the fastest colors on the market are what are known among dyers as hydrosulphite—colors that are dyed with hydrosulphite in a caustic bath. These colors are as nearly fast as any can be made and have been adopted by our government to be used in army uniforms.

The dyeing of these colors on cotton yarn is simple, especially when the Scotch tub system is employed. The proper way to dye these colors is to use the vacuum type of dye machine, as the dyestuff experts hold that all air should be eliminated from the cotton before the dyestuff is applied, and this type of machine is best suited for that purpose, because in this system the cotton is stationary and the dye liquor is forced through the cotton by means of pumps.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Traditions of Sandwich.

Sandwich is the hub of the universe—of golf. In times medieval it was one of England's five gates, through which passed heroes and saints, priests and kings. Here it was that King

Arthur set out to play the emperor of Rome with Excalibur, and here on his return Guinevere welcomed him. St. Paul, says tradition, landed at Sandwich, but it is history that marks it as the landing place of St. Augustine. Picts and Scots were here beaten back by the army of the eastern Julian, and Theodosius landed to repel the Saxons. Becket escaped from England via Sandwich to France. Here Richard I. landed after his Austrian imprisonment and John, king of France, came as a prisoner of the black prince.—London Chronicle.

Tart Retort.

Of Lord Jeffreys, noted for his heartless cruelty, it is recorded when he was chief justice he had a witness before him whose evasive answers aroused the judge's ire. The witness wore an exceedingly long and bushy beard. Said Jeffreys, "If your conscience is as large as your beard you'll swear anything." Unabashed, the witness retorted, "If your lordship measures consciences by beards your lordship has none at all."

T. R. TRIES TO SHATTER IVIN'S INSINUATIONS

Syracuse, N. Y., April 29.—On re-direct examination, Theodore Roosevelt at the trial of the Hibel suit instituted against him by William Barnes, testified in justification of his private letters and his secret deeds. Seeking point by point to shatter Mr. Ivin's revelations and insinuations, the colonel declared over and over again that his main purpose from first to last was to acquaint himself with the popular will and enforce it if the forces of evil were not too strong. Sometimes these were too potent, but nevertheless he had done his best. For the best interests of the people it was necessary he should at times recognize the bosses. With the utmost dexterity the colonel justified, explained, extenuated, defended and lauded his own acts as governor and president.

It was brought out by Mr. Roosevelt's attorney that the Republican campaign fund of 1904 was $1,800,000, not $3,000,000, as had been reported. There were new flashes of interest all through the session, with the colonel describing how Platt always had at heart the interests of the poor; why he had made appointments to please Senator Grady; how Hughes had asked him to make the fight against Barnes in 1910; how his meetings and breakfasts with Platt might as well have been held in a public square, so open and harmless they were; how it was necessary to show Platt copies of his messages in advance, because he felt such was desirable on public grounds; how he often went against Platt when the people's interests were concerned, and why he made this appointment and that.

DEATH RATE TOO LOW; STRIKE OFF

New York, April 29.—The coal-makers' union decided to postpone its general strike on account of the low death rate in the city. The union anticipates a more favorable opportunity when continuous hot weather sets in.

PLANS OF THE PROGRESSIVES

Topeka, Kan., April 29.—The Progressive party will be in the fight in 1916, with either Victor Murdock of Kansas or Hiram Johnson of California leading, and on a platform of national prohibition and national suffrage. This is the word from W. A. White, national committeeman from Kansas for the Progressive party, who said: "We probably can poll 2,000,000 votes on these issues, but our fight will be chiefly a national fight. Probably Hiram Johnson or Victor Murdock will head the national ticket. Each is the embodiment of everything the Progressive party stands for in the nation."

DEADLOCK DEVELOPS

Cleveland, April 29.—Negotiations looking to a settlement of the strike in the eastern Ohio coal fields, which has kept 15,000 men idle for more than a year, took an unfavorable turn in the second day's conference of operators and miners called by Governor Willis. Leaders of the operators asserted that unless the legislature reconsiders and passes the Gallagher bill further negotiations with the men will be useless. The Gallagher bill, which was recently defeated in the legislature, permitted mine owners to make contracts with the miners either on a screen or mine run basis. The Green law, for which the Gallagher bill would act as a substitute, makes mine run contracts compulsory. On the other hand, if the Gallagher bill is reconsidered and passed, the miners, according to William Green, national secretary of the union, will withdraw from the conference.

SKILL OF THE BEAVER.

As a Canal Digger He Is an Engineer of Rare Ability.

According to a legend, the beaver is supposed to be a reincarnation of man, put back on earth to expiate past offenses by work, and in some of the early drawings it is depicted with the face of a man. And when we consider its extraordinary intelligence and skill as woodcutter, engineer (dam and canal maker), house builder and food storer the notion does not seem at all farfetched. Describing the canals which the animals make by scooping out the earth with their hands, A. R. Dugmore in the "Romance of the Beaver" remarks:

"It might be presumed that these canals are only run through level country, but here is the greatest evidence of the engineering ability of the beavers: They build their canals uphill by means of weirs or dams, the distance between them varying according to the gradient. Yet they never work uphill unless it is made absolutely necessary by the contour of the land. The width of these canals is usually about three feet, with a depth from one to three feet, seldom deeper except when small pools are made, evidently with the idea of providing a hiding place in the event of danger. The direction of the canals must necessarily be variable. Wherever conditions are favorable they are as straight as though laid out by human engineers, but when there is any advantage to be gained by curves they make curves."

ANCIENT MEDICAL SKILL.

Peru Had Clever Physicians and Surgeons Ages Ago.

Both cocaine and quinine were first discovered and used by the prehistoric inhabitants of Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia. A cup made from the wood of the tree yielding quinine was filled with water and allowed to stand overnight. In the morning the liquid had become saturated with the medicinal properties possessed by the wood and its bitter contents were drunk. The quassia cups sold in drug stores in this country during the past century were the early method used to administer quinine.

The leaf from the tree giving cocaine is chewed today by the Indians living in the mountainous districts of Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia. It acts as a heart stimulant in those high altitudes and deadens the pangs of hunger so frequently felt by the half starved natives.

The Chumus, who lived in Peru, according to some authorities, 2500 years before Christ and whose dominions extended into Bolivia, Ecuador and parts of Brazil and Colombia, had a pharmacopoeia of their own. Most of the articles used by them as medicines aeons ago are used by the physician of today. Their surgeons were highly skilled too. I have seen skulls dug up in their old cemeteries that showed their owners during life had been injured many times in battle by blunt instruments, presumably clubs, and their lives had been saved by trephining. I recall one skull with four silver plates, several with three, very many with two and hundreds with one. —Leslie's Weekly.

The Almanac Trust.

The sale of almanacs was once a lucrative monopoly. Queen Elizabeth granted the sole right to publish "almanacs and prognostications" to the Stationers' company, and James I. extended the privilege to the universities of Oxford and Cambridge, but for centuries only these three bodies were permitted to issue printed calendars. The monopoly ended when the claim of the king to the privileges of granting or withholding permission to issue calendars—a survival, perhaps, from days when kings asserted their right to regulate all things, including even the times and seasons—was definitely disproved and proclaimed nonexistent. Now anybody can say who's who anywhere. —London Spectator.

Masked Women.

Upper class Swahili women wear curious masks, which are made of leather and beads in a wooden frame. The mask is derived from the traditional usage of Moslem women, who must keep their faces covered in the presence of men. For several centuries Arab traders have frequented this east African coast, and to their influence are due most of the civilized customs found today among the natives of the district. The clothing worn by these prosperous dames is of silk; their shoes are partly of silver, and they wear much silver jewelry. The Moslems in Zanzibar, by the way, are less fanatically strict about religious usages than their brethren in Morocco and Turkey. —Wide World Magazine.

2 Drops of "GETS-IT," Out Comes the Corn!

It's the World's Wonder; Never Fails.

You'll make goo-goo eyes at your feet, after you use "GETS-IT," and you'll find the places where those blumpy corns used to be, just as smooth as your cheek.

"How Wide is a 'GETS-IT' Smile? Well, a Good Deal Over 2 Feet!"

There's no corn or callus among the millions of feet in the world that "GETS-IT" will not remove—there's no escape. "GETS-IT" is the new way, the simple, common-sense, sure way. It does away with greasy ointments, salves, pads, cotton rings, harnesses, knives, scissors, razors, files, and the limping and the painful pigeon-toe walk of so many corn-pestered people. All you do is put 2 drops of "GETS-IT" on the corn shrivels up—and good bye. Nothing else in the world like "GETS-IT." Millions are using it. There's no pain, no trouble, no changing shoes because of corns.

"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Washington C. H. and recommended as the world's best corn cure by Brown's Drug Store, and Frank Christopher's. adv

MEET ONCE AGAIN IN 500-MILE CONTEST

Nothing is dearer to the hearts of Harry Bragg, scheduled to drive Sunbeam and Mercer cars in the next Indianapolis 500-mile race, respectively, than a speed duel just between themselves. No matter what other drivers may be doing, this pair locks horns from the shot of the gun, and tries to make the other quit. In strength they are about even, Bragg having annexed the 1912 Grand Prize, while Grant took down the 1909 and '10 Vanderbilt cup contests.

ALLIES MAKE BIG STRIDES IN THE EAST

London, April 29.—The allies have made progress in their land and sea attack upon the Dardanelles—the gateway to Constantinople. Already the British troops have thrown a line across the southern extremity of the Gallipoli peninsula from the Aegean coast to a point northeast of Eski Hissarlik, a strongly fortified position facing the straits, thus isolating the Turkish stronghold at Sedd El Bear, at the very lips of the Dardanelles.

This has been done, says the British admiralty, in the face of a strenuous resistance by the Turkish forces, who have combated every foot of ground won with furious obstinacy. The fighting throughout has been exceedingly bitter. Farther north, on the Aegean side of the peninsula, at Gaba Tebeh, and at a point opposite the inland village of Saribair, additional landing forces have made good their foothold on Turkish soil and have driven the opposing forces back from the coast despite a vigorous artillery fire. Gaba Tebeh is about ten miles from the end of the Gallipoli peninsula; Saribair is about five miles farther. The troops who drove a line across the peninsula to the vicinity of Eski Hissarlik landed on a level shore some three miles from the entrance to the straits. Eski Hissarlik is some three miles inside the straits.

With the French army of invasion holding Kum Kaleh, at the southern or Asiatic side of the entrance, and the British forces sweeping across the lower fifteen miles of the Gallipoli peninsula, it will thus be seen that the task of acquiring a first foothold has been achieved with great speed. Sedd El Behr is already cut off from its base of supplies and must of necessity fall before many days; Kum Kaleh is practically in the hands of the French, and north, at the entrance to the narrows, Kilid Bahr, a position on which the Turks place great reliance, is the objective of a British army which is said to be driving the enemy rapidly before it.

The dispatches indicate that both the French and British forces are entirely landed, despite the precautions taken by the Turks, under the generalship of German commanders, who had woven a network of wire entanglements just off the shore under the sea swell and had dug great pits which were teemed with spikes. The shore was well fortified with barbed wire.

The Co-operative Tire

Goodyear has always built co-operative tires. Every saving has gone to the user. The more men bought the better we built them, and the lower we sold them.

That is why Goodyear has held top place, outselling any other tire.

3 Reductions

Note that in two years we made three big price reductions. The last—on February 1st—brought the total to 45 per cent.

Yet in costly ways these tires have been bettered. In not one iota were they ever skimped.

Our Fortified Tire is still "On-Air" cured to save blow-outs. Yet that one extra cost us $450,000 yearly.

It still has our No-Rim-Cut feature. It has in each base 126 braided piano wires to make the tire secure. It embodies hundreds of rubber rivets, formed to combat loose treads.

Our All-Weather tread is still double-thick. It still has the sharp, tough, resistless grips.

Those extras—all exclusive to Goodyear—are all retained, despite our price reductions. And we still spend $100,000 yearly to discover new ways to better them.

Your Ally

In all these ways, Goodyear is your ally. You do injustice to yourself when you fail to secure this advantage. Never in tire history was such value given as you get in Goodyear tires today.

No smaller makers can ever give so much. Any dealer will supply you. [237]

TO CHECK THE SLAV ADVANCE

London, April 29. — Fighting of a desperate character continues in the high ground of the Carpathians along the Stry river and in the neighborhood of Uzok pass. The Austrians, heavily reinforced by their own compatriots and by Germans, are still making desperate efforts to retake heights and advantageous positions in order to hold off the Russian advance when the spring thaw is over. According to dispatches from Petrograd the Russians have made progress in spite of the attacks. They now hold the summits to the north and northwest of the Uzok pass, and when advances are made on either flank by their troops it will, it is believed, render the German occupation of the pass untenable. The fighting now is spread through mountain defiles, which make concerted maneuvers impossible.

ITALY IS IN AGREEMENT WITH ALLIES

Rome, April 29.—An agreement between Italy and the allies, practically amounting to an alliance, undoubtedly will be concluded in the near future. The agreement is regarded as the prelude to Italy's intervention in the war.

Meanwhile the government retains freedom of action while the Italo-Austrian negotiations are pending. The government, it is expected, will announce the eventual failure of these negotiations simultaneously with the announcement of Italian intervention when an opportune time arrives.

Greece's intervention in favor of the allies is considered here to be imminent and inevitable. The negotiations preceding this step are well along. The main questions, those of concessions in Asia Minor and financial help, have been practically settled, and the situation in Greece is now identical with that which existed previous to the resignation of Premier Venizelos.

REPORTED ALLIES LOST 12,000 MEN

Berlin, April 29.—A well authenticated report has reached Berlin that the left wing of the allies' landing force on the Gallipoli peninsula, which General Liman von Sanders, the German commander of the Turkish forces, reported as holding out, has now surrendered to the Turks. Halil Bey, former president of the Turkish parliament, who is now in Berlin, received a telegram from Constantinople stating that 8,000 French and British soldiers had been driven to the sea and that 12,000 had been captured by the Turks as a result of the attempt of the allies to land forces to attack the Dardanelles fortifications.

C. H. & D. SHOPS RUN FULL TIME

Lima, Ohio, April 29.—For the first time in two years the shops of the C. H. & D. Railroad here, employing 400 men, will work a full month. On previous occasions the appropriations ran out long before the month was over and the shops were closed until the beginning of the following month.

The machine shops are using their full quota of men and are working full time to keep up with the work. It was said today by local officials that the shops would be likely to run on full time for several months to come, as much equipment needed repair. The enormous increase in business of the road the past two weeks has caused the activity, the coal traffic to the lakes being heavier than at any time in the history of the road.

MILLIONS FOR BETTERMENTS

Baltimore, Md., April 28.—The expected financing to be done by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company came today with the announcement that Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co. have purchased $40,000,000 4½ per cent secured gold notes. These notes are equally divided as follows: $20,000,000 maturing June 1, 1917, two year maturities are offered at 99½ and the three-year maturities at 99.

This offering will more than take care of the $35,000,000 one-year notes, which fall due June 1 next, and leaves $5,000,000 for further betterment or other forms of financing.

TALENTED GIRL TO GIVE RECITAL

No little local interest attaches to a recital, to be given by Miss Mary Hazel Post, reader, impersonator and monologist, of Ohio University, at Wayne Hall, Good Hope, Saturday evening, for the benefit of the Sugar Grove church.

This will be Miss Post's first appearance in public since leaving the local High school, where her ability first attained recognition. She will present a delightfully varied repertoire, the amusing and humorous in the lead, and rich entertainment is promised in her program.

Musical talent will assist a vocal quartet, Mrs. Silcott, Mrs. Cockerill, Messrs Silcott and Hardway, with Mrs. Everhart accompanist. Miss Bernice Boggs, piano soloist and a song by Margaret Alice Porter.

SENIOR GIRLS ENTERTAIN TEACHERS

The Senior girls of the Domestic Science department, under the direction of the domestic science teacher, Miss Maude Chester, served luncheon to half of the High school teachers and evening dinner to the remainder.

It was a practical lesson in serving for the girls and a genuine treat to the guests. Both luncheon and dinner were served with exquisite daintiness, a color scheme of green and white at the former and violet and white at the latter.

Four courses of deliciously cooked viands were served and the place cards were extremely pretty little hand painted affairs.

SUNNYSIDE LOSES TO CENTRAL NINE

With "Chuck" Myers in the tosser's box Central school's fast diamond pirates put it over the Sunnyside aggregation Tuesday evening. The lopsided score was 7 to 1.

Central is now somewhat appeased for the loss of the first two games of the season to Cherry Hill.

By the showing of the school teams so far, they compare about the same as on the gridiron last fall.

HISTORIC AQUEDUCT DESTROYED BY FIRE

The historic old aqueduct across the Scioto river at Circleville was completely destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning, and it is believed that the fire was of incendiary origin, as numerous attempts had been made to burn the old structure.

The structure was completed in 1831, at a cost of $40,000. It was of wood construction and was in a splendid state of preservation.

POSTMASTER OF HILLSBORO DEAD

A STORY THAT VARIES.

The Bride Who Got Into a Chest and Was Found Dead There.

There is a story more or less diffused of a young bride on her wedding day playing the game of hide and seek and concealing herself in one of those ancient carved chests of large size. After she had got in the lid closed, and she found herself unable to raise it again, for it fastened with a spring, and she was shut in. Search was made for her in every quarter but the right one, and great perplexity and dismay were caused by her disappearance. It was not till years after, when chance led to the opening of the chest, that the body of the young bride was discovered and the mystery of her disappearance solved.

The story is found in so many places that it may be questioned whether it is true of any one of them. Rogers tells it of a palace in Modena. The chest in which the poor bride was found is shown at Bramshill, in Hampshire, the residence of Sir John Cope. Another similar chest, with precisely the same story attached to it, was long shown at Marwell Old Hall, between Winchester and Bishop's Waltham.

The folk tale of Catskin or Peau d'Ane represents the girl flying with her bridal dresses from a marriage that is repugnant to her, and as this tale is found all over Europe it may have metamorphosed itself into that of the bride who got into a chest and died there.—Cornhill Magazine.

BLUNDERING REPORTERS.

Mistakes That Mangled the Speakers' Words and Feelings.

"Drunkness is folly!" earnestly exclaimed Bishop Magee in the house of lords on a celebrated occasion. How horrified was the prelate to read in the papers next morning that he had given utterance to the very bacchanalian sentiment, "Drunkness is jolly!"

Lord Salisbury was a master phrase-maker, but one of his best points was spoiled when a careless reporter turned his reference to "manacles and Mantoba" into the meaningless "manacles and men at the bar."

Sir William Harcourt was badly misquoted once. "Great is Diana of the Ephesians!" he exclaimed upon the platform, but one paper had it: "Great Diana! What a farce is this!"

Lack of knowledge of familiar quotations is a prolific source of misreporting. For instance, a speaker once made use of the well known lines from Milton's "L'Allegro":

But come, thou goddess, fair and free,
In heaven ye'ret Euphrosyne.

The brilliant reporter deputed to "take him down" was in despair. He could not make head or tail of this mysterious utterance. But, following the sound as far as possible, he seized his pen and produced the following gem:

But come, thou goddess, fair and free,
In heaven she crept and froze her knee.
The speaker was taken down in more senses than one.—London Answers.

Golf in the Old Days.

Centuries back golf was a pastime of the royal family, though then usually played in Scotland. The Stuart family was very fond of the game, and the first English club was established at Blackheath in 1608 by James I. His eldest son, Henry, frequently played and on one occasion nearly struck by accident his tutor with a club, whereupon he coolly remarked, "Had I done so I had but paid my debts." Charles I. was playing golf when he received the news of the Irish rebellion. James, duke of York, afterward James II., was another ardent player. Golf is frequently mentioned in ancient Scottish records and in the fifteenth century was prohibited because it interfered with the practice of archery. Strutt considered it the most ancient game at ball requiring a bat.—London Standard.

Puss and the Weather.

The cat is an excellent barometer. When you see a cat wetting its paw in its mouth and then rubbing it energetically over the upper part of its ear you may feel pretty certain that rain is coming. This action is pussy's method of relieving the uncomfortable feeling in its ears caused by the change in the atmospheric pressure which precedes a storm. If the unpleasant feeling in the ear were due to a foreign substance then the cat would scratch the ear with its hind foot. But when pussy scrubs its ear with its saliva moistened paw it is when rain is impending.

Do not think that years leave us and find us the same.—Meredith.

Care of the Ear.

Never be alarmed if a living insect enters the ears. Pouring warm water into the canal will drown it, when it will generally come to the surface and can easily be removed by the fingers. A few puffs of tobacco smoke blown into the ear will stupefy the insect. Never meddle with the ear if a foreign body, such as a bead, button or seed enters it. Leave it absolutely alone, but have a physician attend to it. More damage has been done by injudicious attempts at the extraction of a foreign body than could ever come from its presence in the ear.—Health.

Attacked in Front and Rear

A youngster of our acquaintance who has a faculty for getting into scrapes recently expressed the wish that he was a postage stamp. When asked why, he answered, "Because a postage stamp can only be licked once," whereupon we pointed out that the stamp received, besides the licking, a severe punch in the face.—Boston Transcript.

Contrary Efforts.

"The man who forged the indorsement of his friend went to the bank to cash the check."
"Well?"
"The friend went immediately after him to check the cash."—Baltimore American.

A Great Principle.

"Forgive your enemies," said the earnest man. "That's good religion."
"Yes," replied Senator Borah, "and sometimes it's good politics too."—Washington Star
